Meet Wal-Mart rep at luncheon

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

To help educate local merchants and residents, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry planned two consecutive luncheons with guest speakers on both sides of the controversy of whether "big box" stores are a good idea for Antioch.

The second of these luncheons will be held at the Double Eagle restaurant at noon on Tuesday, April 2.

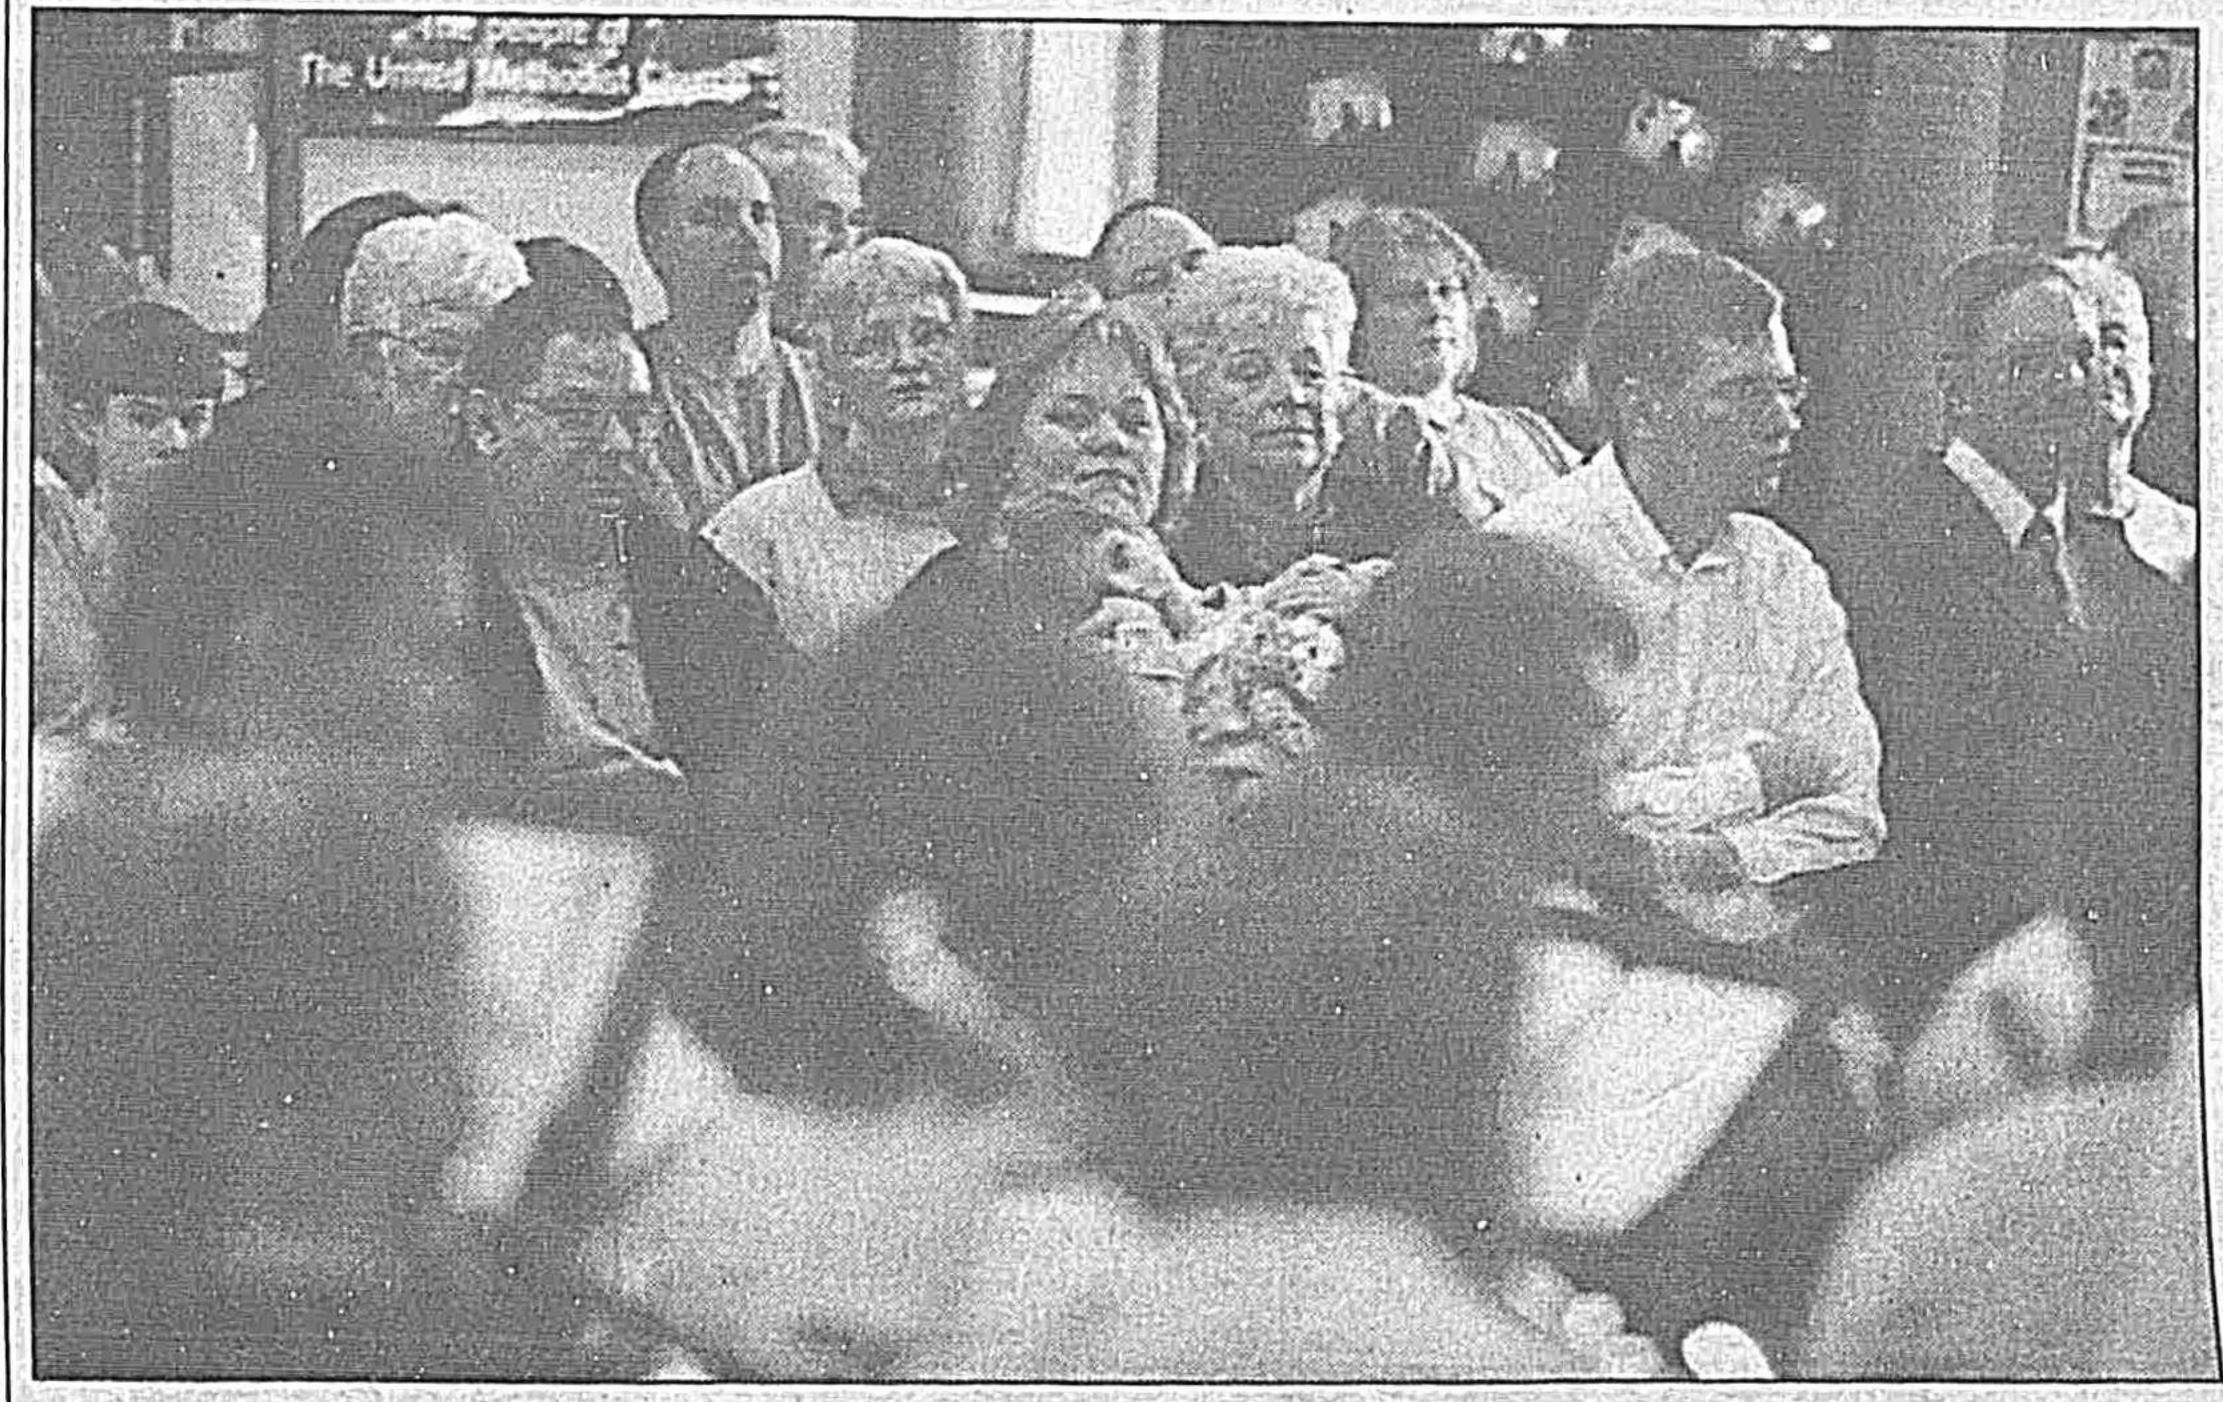

Timothy Barrett, a partner with Great Lakes Principals the developer proposing a Super Wal-Mart, will speak on behalf of the chain store. His presentation will address "Wal-Mart and Your Community."

Barbara Porch, executive director of the Chamber, said, "We want everyone to be as informed as possible. That is why we invited speakers to give both sides of the issue."

Barrett sent the "Antioch News" a packet of information that contained solicited letters dated back to 1999 from Round Lake, Crystal Lake, Naperville, Kewanee and Plano expressing their positive experi-

The Crystal Lake Chamber of Commerce letter read, "First, there is no doubt that the community has benefited from the sales and real estate taxes paid by your corporation. For the past several years the City of Crystal Lake has been able to lower residential real estate taxes because corporations like Wal-Mart have paid retail sales taxes, a portion of which is returned by the State of

Cocaine arrest near high school

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

"There are always stiffer penalties for those who deal drugs near a school," said Detective Sgt. Craig Somerville of the Antioch Police Dept. after the arrest of Richard W. Turner, 26, of 1109 Bishop St., Antioch.

Turner was arrested and charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, and for the unlawful delivery of a controlled substance within 1,000 feet of a school on March 15 when he was found with what was suspected to be cocaine.

Turner was identified as the "source" during police investigation of another drug bust earlier that day.

Kenneth G. Mazzuca, 33, of Salem, Wis., and Jeffrey W. Kube, 29, of Kenosha, Wis., were arrested at 3 p.m. in the driveway of 1064 Main St. for the unlawful possession of a controlled substance when they were found with suspected cocaine.

According to Somerville, a complainant reported seeing two men in brown van passing possible drugs between them. Police responded to the scene and made the arrests.

"These two were nowhere near school property," said Somerville.

Mazzuca and Kube are charged with a class 4 felony,

Tiles support theater

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

"We're going into our 42nd year," said PM&L Theatre president Tom Hausman. "The first 41 years we were kept alive by community support. We have to have this community support."

In the midst of a huge fundraising effort for the renovation of the theater, PM&L's need is strong despite the generous bequest of Dolly Spiering. Hausman explained that while one-third of the bequest will go toward the major revamping of the theater, the rest will go into an investment account to help keep PM&L an Antioch tradition well into the future.

"Not-for-profit theaters like ours must depend on the kindness of benefactors to continue to bring live theater to audiences," he said.

PM&L is selling tiles to help offset costs. The tiles will eventually fill the north wall of the new coffee room in the lower level.

"This is a great way to have the community be a part of the renovation," said Hausman. "Everybody can help to make PM&L Theatre better."

Construction is scheduled to begin on July 1. "We'll be moving the box office next door to what was Waterford Lodge," said Hausman. "We'll be out of the building for the last show of this season and the first two shows of next season. Those will be performed at the VFW Hall."

In addition to a new coffee room, both bathrooms will be expanded. Hausman said the auditorium has been renamed in memory of Spiering, and that the sprinkling system has been dedicated to Homer and Francis LaPlant in honor of their bequest.

All donations to PM&L Theatre are tax-deductible. Tiles for the 'wall of thanks" will be sold in three

A 4 by 8 inch tile with three lines of up to 13 letters will cost $50. An 8 by 8 inch tile with five lines of up to 13 letters will cost $100. A 12 by 12 inch tile with seven lines of up to 19 letters will cost $500. Logos can be included on the tile.

Samples of the tiles can be seen at the theater when it is open.

Hausman said the tiles would be for sale at least through the end of this year.

"We're going to make this ongoing," he said. "We'll put a section of tiles as we get enough to do so. We're going to display some pieces of artwork in between the tiled sections. It will look very nice, and people will able to see their names."

For more information about purchasing a tile, call Hausman at 847-395-7489.

Village sets 5-year road plan

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Motor fuel tax (MFT) bonding will be used to pay for the Village of Antioch's five-year road repair plan. The plan was approved in principal by the board of directors at its regular meeting. Trustee Scott Pierce chose not to vote as the street on which he lives is scheduled for repair in the first year.

Village administrator Mike Haley said that streets that are to undergo sewer repairs would not be included in the first year of the prostreets and then have to tear them up to do sewer work," he said.

The ordinance to collect the motor fuel tax for these repairs was approved on Jan. 21 and is expected to garner $1.78 million. The ordinance stipulates that the amount not exceed $2 million.

The first year's work is estimated at just under $400,000. The following streets are slated for that Maplewood work: Oakwood, Bridgewood to Edgewood, Sunset, Timber, Naber, Osmond, Hennings Court, Hidden ject. "We don't want to fix up the Creek to Birch Hollow for patching, engineering work to Lake and Anita streets and other miscellaneous repair.

> Village engineer Jim Keim said shoulder work and drainage work would be included as part of the repairs made.

Pierce asked if the money could be used for any other village project. Haley answered, "It can't even be used for storm sewers unless directly related to a particular road."

The plan was approved in concept, as future years' lists may need to be reprioritized over time.

An eggcellent Easter adventure awaits n "eggcellent" adventure will be awaiting children after the Antioch Easter parade as youngsters hunt for the egg with the big prize. The Antioch parks and recreation department will have its 11th annual "Eggcellent Easter Adventure" on March 30 at 11 a.m. at Williams Park immediately following the parade that begins at 10:30 a.m.

Registration is required. If you haven't registered your child and you read this by March 29, register your child at the parks office located at 806 Holbek Dr. immediately.

The event is co-sponsored with the community development department and the Antioch Senior Center. According to parks director Laurie Stahl, the Easter egg hunt will be done in four groups based on age from one to 10 years old, and beginning with the youngest.

"We will be giving out two

Student earns $50,000 fellowship

Arizona Wilderness Coalition funds grant

Jason Williams, of Antioch, was awarded a $50,000 graduate fellowship for the Prescott College (Prescott, Ariz.) Master of Arts program. The Arizona Wilderness Coalition

(AWC) funded the grant through a Pew Charitable Trust grant.

Williams, a 1995 graduate of Antioch Community High School, graduated from the Prescott College Resident Degree Program in December 2001 with a degree in environmental studies. He will graduate from the Master of Arts Program with a degree in environmental studies and environmental education.

"Making additions to the wilderness preservation system in Arizona needs to be done to achieve a network of protected lands that represent all ecosystems," said Williams. "I am excited and proud to be working for an organization that has traditionally had spectacular results."

As part of the fellowship, that includes full tuition for the two-year program, a monthly stipend, travel and office expenses, Williams will perform as a regional coordinator for the AWC to organize, support and initiate roadless inventories in south and central Arizona.

"The AWC considers this collaboration a way to support the education program at Prescott College and integrate the entire school into our projects," said Don Hoffman, director of the AWC. "It's a way for us to involve the college with our goals and to get students involved in a real life task, which is perfect for the experimental component of the school." The AWC is an "organization of groups and individuals whose mission is to protect and restore wilderness and other wildlands and waters in Arizona." It coordinates and conducts inventories, educates citizens and enlists support and advocates for their lasting protection.

Warrant arrest

Nicholas E. Lensing, 22, of 25274 W. Lincoln Drive, Lake Villa, was arrested on March 20 at 2:06 a.m. on Rte. 173 west of Grimm Rd. on warrant.

The vehicle in which Lensing was a passenger was pulled over by police for traveling 68 mph in a 45-mph zone.

In addition to the driver's, Lensing's identifiers were checked through LEADS/SOS and came back with information that he was wanted on warrant through the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. for failure to appear on a possession charge caring $50,000 bond (10 percent applies).

Lensing was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures. He was then transported to the Lake County Jail.

William L. Ward, 42, of 600 W. Washington, Lake Bluff, was arrested on March 19 at 7:49 p.m. on Rte. 83 north of Beach Grove Rd. on warrant.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 48 mph in 30-mph zone. A check through LEADS returned that Ward had a valid driver's license, but that he was wanted by the Carol Stream Police Dept. for deceptive practice with no bond.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued a citation for speeding. Ward was then put through booking procedures and held in a cell to await the Carol Stream Police Dept.

DUI

Stephen A. Enevold, 22, of 282 Anita Terrace, Antioch, was arrested on March 23 at 12:08 a.m. on Rte. 173 west of Rte. 83 for driving under the influence of alcohol.

Police locked Enevold's vehicle traveling 38 mph in a 20-mph zone. He entered the eastbound lane of traffic as he prepared to turn into Taco Bell.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Enevold's breath when a driver's license and proof of insurance were requested. He failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

Enevold was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was given citations for speeding, improper lane usage and DUI. He agreed in chemical testing that resulted in .122 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued an additional citation for DUI over .08.

Enevold was put through booking procedures and released on $100 cash bond pending his May 7 court date.

Dustin T. Trzaskowski, 30, of 1203 Superior Avenue, Spring Grove, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on March 19 at 1:51 a.m. on Rte. 173 west of Savage Road.

There was a report of a possible DUI that caused police to follow Trzaskowski, as it was the same color as the one reported. The officer saw the vehicle swerve severely within its lane of traffic and enter the right turn lane as it approached Deep Lake Road.

Trzaskowski provided his driver's license but no proof of insurance. The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath at this time. He failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

Trzaskowski was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for improper lane usage and DUI. He agreed to chemical testing that resulted in .125 blood alcohol concentration.

Trzaskowski was given an additional citation for DUI over .08 and operation of an uninsured vehicle. He was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognizance pending court.

No valid driver's license

Jonathan K. Rosemond, 20, of 205 S. Glen St., Grayslake, was arrested on March 21 at 4:19 p.m. for driving without a valid driver's license.

Rosemond was stopped for having no front registration plate. His identifiers were checked through LEADS and came back with him having no valid driver's license in Illinois.

Rosemond was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for having no front registration plate and having no valid driver's license. He was released on personal recognizance pending his April 24 court date.

Raymond S. Hensley, 32, of 23522 126th St., Trevor, Wis., was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on March 18 at 7:39 a.m. on southbound Rte. 83 north of Rte. 173.

Hensley was stopped for having both front side windows tinted. He gave police his registration and proof of insurance, but said he did not have his driver's license with him.

He was checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS and came back with a suspended Wisconsin driver's license and no valid Illinois driver's license.

Hensley was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for tinted front side windows and driving without a valid driver's license. He was released on personal recognizance pending his April 24 court date.

Suspended driver's license

Edwin J. Quist, 23, of 16165 W. Rte. 173, Wadsworth, was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license on March 20 at 5:17 p.m. at the intersection of McMillan and Ram Road.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 43 mph in a 25-mph zone. Quist gave police an identification card and said his driver's license was suspended and that he did not have insurance. He was checked through LEADS/NCIC and came back with information that his license was suspended. Quist was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding, driving while suspended and for the operation of an uninsured vehicle. He was released on personal recognizance pending his May 8 court date.

Bad weather increases car accidents

By STEVE SKINNER Staff Reporter

Last week's unexpected dip in temperatures caused an unexpected rise in accidents. According to the Lake County Sheriff's Department, a rise in accidents might be due to poor visibility from the early morning darkness, fog, or from black ice.

Black ice is invisible to motorists and is responsible for a hefty share of auto accidents during the winter.

The best precaution one can take in bad weather is to reduce speed and increase the distance from the car in front of you. In slick or icy conditions, extra stopping room is a necessity. Once an ice slick is hit an automobile can be almost impossible to control, as countless motorists will attest to after the spate of accidents, countywide, last week.

For cars with anti-lock brakes it is important to remember not to pump the brakes but to let the ABS system do it automatically. The proper braking procedure is to press and hold down the brake pedal and steer normally to regain control of the car.

Traffic officials have recommended that when weather changes, or snow or rain is present, that one should go into a vacant lot and practice locking up the brakes in order to get used to how a car handles in slippery situations. Practice makes perfect, or at least keeps your deductible down.

The good news of Good Friday

everal years ago I sent Easter cards to family and friends. In those cards I enclosed a poem I had written relaying the good news of Good Friday. The poem is as follows:

The Grave is Empty!

The grave is empty, don't you see?
Jesus conquered death victoriously!
He shed his blood on Calvary.
Jesus died for you and me.

To save us from our iniquity,
Jesus paid the price so willingly!
He gave his life to set us free.
Oh how Jesus loves you and me!

The grave is empty, don't you see?
Jesus arose supernaturally!
He's preparing a place in eternity.
Oh how Jesus loves you and me!

But time is short, don't you see?
A choice must be made by you and me.
If we choose Jesus to set us free,
We are promised life for eternity!

God loves us so much that He sent his one and only son Jesus to die for our sins. While we were yet sinners Christ died for us. His part was difficult, Jesus died for our sins. Our part is easy, we need to admit we have sinned, believe Jesus died for our sins, confess our sins to Him and ask for forgiveness. When we give our lives to Him we are truly free and our lives can have real joy and purpose. When our time on this earth is up, if we have chosen Jesus we will have chosen life, a beautiful eternity in Heaven with Him. Without Him we have chosen Hell. None of us is promised tomorrow. There's no second chance in eternity. The best choice you could ever make is to choose Jesus!

Get Well Card Tip

As I was doing some spring cleaning this week I came across this little tip I had clipped out of a paper (source unknown). When you mail a get well card to someone in the hospital, put their home address on the envelope in the return address space. That way, if they go home from the hospital before the card arrives it will be sent to their home and not back to you.

Antioch Women's Club

The April 10th meeting of the Antioch Women's Club will feature "Hats Off to Music" with Kirstin Synnestvedt and will begin at 1 p.m. Meetings are on the second Tuesday of the month and are held at the United Methodist Church at 848 Main St. Guests are always welcome. The Antioch Women's Club hosts fundraisers for community service projects. The club also collects coupons to send to servicemen and women, makes quilts for battered children and for children needing special facial surgeries.

Ladies, You Are Invited!

A special luncheon will take place on Thursday, April 11 at noon at the Colony House in Trevor, Wis. A weekend and travel fashion presentation will be given by Arlene Carpenter. Speaker Becky Bontreger will talk about "Living Happily 'Even' After". The cost of the luncheon is $11 inclusive and a free nursery is provided for children 10 and under upon reservation.

Call Judy at 847-546-9481 or Pat at 262-857-2001 for reservations. The luncheon is sponsored by the Christian Women's Club Stonecroft Ministries.

Luncheons are held on the second Thursday of every month and each luncheon proves to be interesting and inspirational.

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

PM&L: Champagne to 'first-nighters'

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"Father of the Bride," a story that was a two time movie hit, opens on April 5 at 8 p.m. at PM&L Theatre in Antioch.

"First-nighters will be treated to a champagne party after the show to celebrate opening night with the cast and crew," said publicity director Betty Smouse.

Mr. Banks, played by Rich Krapf of Waukegan, learns that his daughter (Kay, played by Amy DeLamoreux of Carpentersville) is getting married when she springs the announcement on him. Things get out of hand as a simple wedding turns into a big fiasco.

"It's a very funny comedy," said Smouse. "Steve Martin played the father in the last movie rendition."

Darryl Bromley, of Wadsworth, plays sonin-law-to-be Buckley Dunston. Donna Abear, of Antioch, plays the part of Mrs. Banks. Sons Ben and Tommy are played by Mike Pollitt and Phil Bednar, both of Antioch. Other cast members include the following: Michele MacLennon, Antioch; Trish Jansta, Antioch; John Villarreal, Zion; Colleen Badtke, Genoa City, Wis.; Kevin Carr, Lindenhurst; Chris Brouton, Round Lake; and Sharon Price, Grayslake.

Larry Bersie, of Silver Lake, Wis., is directing the play. Robyn Bersie, of Grayslake, is stage manager assisted by MacLennon. Mark Badtke, of Genoa City, is the lighting designer, and Stacey Clifford, of Kenosha is the lighting technician. Art Jones, of Lindenhurst, is set designer.

"It takes a lot of dedicated people to do the six-show season at the PM&L Theatre, and this is a good time to meet some of them."

Remaining show dates and times are as follows: April 6, 12, 13, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. Sunday matinees are on April 7, 14 and 21 at 2:30 p.m. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors.

Reservations can be made by calling 847-395-3055, or by going to the box office Monday through Thursday from 5:30-7:30 p.m., Saturday from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. and 90 minutes prior to curtain.

loon twisting, interactive dance like the 'chicken dance' and the 'hokey pokey,' as well as teaching them put together a birthday party or a picnic party."

Suzanne said "show" sizes differ based on the type of event and the number of people anticipated to attend. Some picnic shows last 12 hours and may include egg toss and water balloon competitions as well as multiple games. "Clowns have to have a repertoire of at least 30 games, a minimum of three magic tricks and must be able to do face painting or tattoo application," she added. Part of clown training also includes learning how to make an entrance and introduction that won't frighten children. "I personally get down to the child's level. I use my early childhood education training," said Suzanne (both Suzanne and Mitch are trained in education). "Usually, if a child is really afraid it's because they don't see the clown as human. In that situation, and only in that situation, I'll pull up my sleeve a little and show the child that I am a person dressed up."

Clowns are not only allowed but are encouraged to interject their own personalities. "It's important that whatever you do comes across naturally," said Suzanne. "I don't change myself. I'm a sweet little girl and I talk to the kids that way."

There are three basic clown types: whiteface, where the face is primarily all white; auguste, with white around the eyes and mouth but largely flesh tone; and the tramp or hobo with little or no white, but with dark whiskers. The personalities of the clowns tend to become more somber as the amount of white is reduced. Clowning Around trainees and sisters Ari "Giggles" Hauser and Heddy "Dazzelz"

Orozco, both of Zion, were able to choose their own faces to fit their personalities and the ultimate clowns they aspire to be. "We have a little bit of a clown background from doing parties for relatives," said Ari. "We had some idea of what we'd like even before we started training. "We give our clowns the latest of everything to work with," said Suzanne. "We don't limit their creativity. We want them to have fun, and that shows when their personalities come out through the choices they make."

In some cases, becoming a clown brings out individual personality.

"I wanted to be a dancer when I grew up, but since I didn't grow up I became a clown," said Nancy "Daisy Muffin" Neckermann, an independent clown from Antioch. "I wasn't the class clown in school, and I wasn't the brave one who always had a hand

18 SHOCS, big hair, brightly colored clothing and painted on smiles draw us into the tricks and tales of the clown's act like a moth to a porch light in the summertime. Whether moptopped or curly headed, adept at stilt walking, magic or balloon twisting, clowns remain popular for their ability to make us laugh. It takes more than colorful clothing and some makeup to earn a living as a clown. Clowning is a multitasking profession of face painters, jugglers, magicians, storytellers, puppeteers and party coordinators.

Each clown must be able to perform a couple in a long list of sought-after talents to make it. "We take people who are outgoing and have contagious friendliness and we transform them into fantastic clowns," said Mitch "Dweedle" Dicker. His Mundelein-based business, Clowning Around and Celebration Authority, employs about 40 clowns and is the largest self-contained entertainment company in the Chicago area.

While some attributes are natural, others can and are taught.

Dicker's wife and clown partner Suzanne, "Soozee," said, "Our clowns go through a 10-week training program. We meet with them one day a week for two hours during that time and teach them magic, bal-

New restaurant opens in downtown Round Lake

By STEVE SKINNER Correspondent

he much anticipated grand opening of the Rancho Nuevo Mexican Restaurant, at 234 N. Cedar Lake Road in downtown Round Lake, was well attended by the locals. This new restaurant has instantly infused new life into our quaint downtown area.

Getting people to check out a new restaurant is the easy part, getting them to come back again is the hard part. According to Yolanda Lomeli, a co-owner of the restaurant, "There is plenty of sunshine for everyone, and hopefully this restaurant's success will draw other restaurants to the area. Competition is good for everyone."

We were welcomed as if we had just arrived at the house of a family member. The decor has a Mexican flavor to it with walls painted in warm earthy tones, cast-iron lighting fixtures hanging from the ceiling, and oversized Mexican tiles adorning the floors.

Our initial visit was on opening weekend, and within moments of being seated, we received chips and salsa, two glasses of water, and our waitress seemed to appear out of nowhere. The chips were warm, and the salsa, addictive, with just a tiny bit of a kick.

For our main entree, we ordered the Bistec a la Mexicana at $9.95, which is comprised of sliced skirt steak broiled to perfection, and the Chiles Rellenos at $7.50. Both of these entrees are served with warm tortillas, rice and beans, shredded lettuce, and chopped green peppers and tomatoes for garnish.

All of Rancho Nuevo's dishes are prepared from scratch, using only the freshest ingredients. The Chiles Rellenos are excellent, and require the longest wait of the many items offered on the menu.

What is as equally important as the food, is the level of service, and based upon our two visits, the owners of Rancho Nuevo know how to take care of a customer and make sure every patrons' dining experience is pleasurable.

On our second visit, we arrived a bit earlier in the evening, and the restaurant was not yet completely full. Again, we were given the same warm greeting (our waitress from the prior visit remembered us) and we had chips, salsa and water immediately upon being seated. As a special treat on this visit, our waiter treated us to their homemade guacamole.

This time we ordered two soft-shell, pork tacos ($1.50 each), a steak Chimichanga ($6.25), and their Sopa Marina ($10.95) which is a seafood soup. Again, the portions were more than adequate and the Chimichanga was delightful. The tacos were extremely tasty, obviously fresh, and the meat was cooked to perfection.

Rancho Nuevo's overall prices are reasonable and range from $6.25 to $12.50 for entrees, while appetizers range from $1.50 to $6.95. They offer a decent selection of beer and margaritas, as well as traditional softdrinks. We have not yet had enough room to try dessert, but I am certain these are wonderful as well. The food, the service, the atmosphere and the prices all combine to spell success for this new restaurant. They do not yet accept credit cards, but that should be resolved very soon. Additionally, the restaurant is open for breakfast and lunch also, and as soon as I get the chance, you know I will try the Huevos Rancheros.

Out of a possible 4 stars, I rate them at 3 1/4 stars. Rancho Nuevo is located at 234 N. Cedar Lake Road, in downtown Round Lake, and their number for reservations, carry out, or to inquire about catering is 847-546-6009.

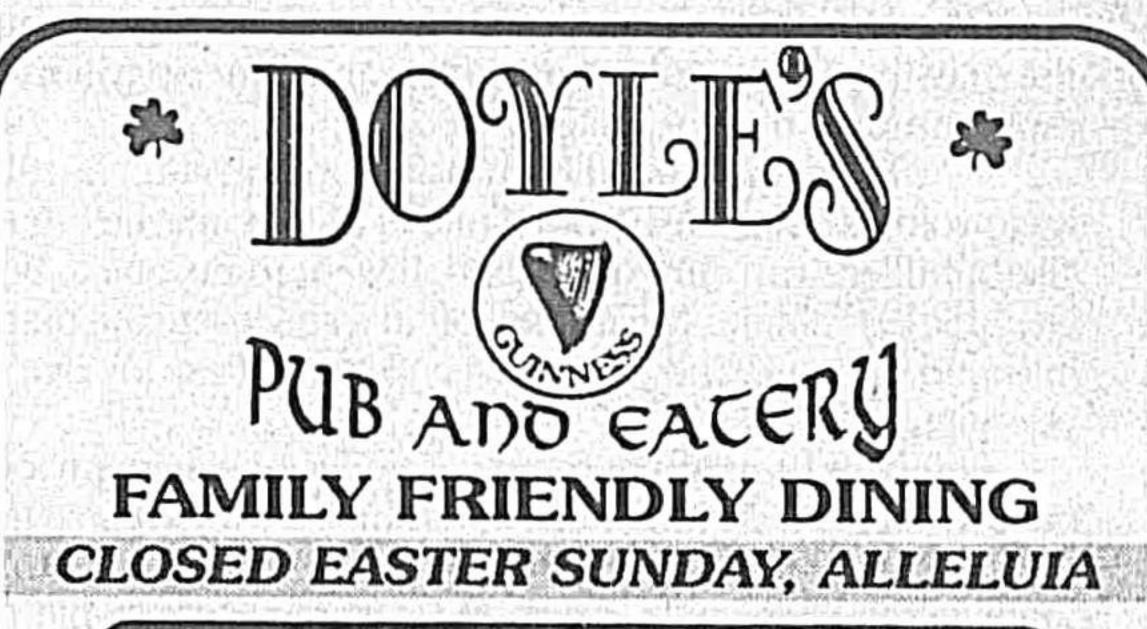

Senior art majors exhibit at Barat College

hree seniors in Barat College's bachelor's of fine art program have the opportunity to show off their work in an exhibition April 4 through 14 in the Reicher Gallery on the Barat Campus of DePaul University on Lake Forest.

The pieces are all vivid and distinct. Keiko Sakamoto uses a mixture of oil paint and rice for her exhibit "Grains of My Time." Naomi Nambu uses computer graphics for her whimsical pieces, "Little Life in the Great World." And Darice Castino combines watercolor and ink on paper with beads for her show entitled, "Messages of Hope."

Barat College, which recently formed an alliance with DePaul University, is located at 700 E. Westleigh Rd. in Lake Forest. The Reicher Gallery is located on the lower level of the old Main Administration Building.

For more information, contact Reicher Gallery Curator Monika Wulfers at 847-604-6341.

SPECIAL EVENT

Glenn Miller Orchestra swings into Centre East

idely hailed as the best in big band, the 19-piece Glenn Miller Orchestra makes its Centre East debut Friday, April 5 at 2 and 8 p.m. at the North Shore Center for the Performing Arts in Skokie. The orchestra is led by trombonist Larry O'Brien and includes Chicagoan Kevin Sheehan on alto clar-

The legendary Glenn Miller was one of the most successful of all the dance bandleaders back in the swing era of the 1930s and '40s. A matchless string of hit records, the constant impact of radio broadcast and the drawing power at theaters, hotels and dance pavilions built and sustained the momentum of their popularity.

Miller disbanded his musical organization in 1952 at the height of its popular-. ity to volunteer for the Army. While in the service, he organized and led the famous Glenn Miller Army Air Force Band. It went to Europe to entertain servicemen, and on Dec. 15, 1944, Major Miller took off in a single-engine plane from England to precede his band to France, never to be seen again. The army declared him officially dead a year later.

The 19-member band continues to play many of the original Miller arrangements that keep exciting fans, additionally, they are playing more modern selections in the big-band style, carefully selecting only those newer tunes that lend themselves naturally to the Miller style and sound. The repertoire, which now exceeds 1,700 compositions, keeps the band popular with both young and old

The performances are held at the Centre East Theatre in the North Shore Center for the Performing Arts in Skokie, 9501 Skokie Blvd. Tickets are $31 for the matinee and $35 for the evening performance and can be purchased through the Centre East box office at 847-673-6300 or Ticketmaster at 312-902-1500, or online at www.ticketmaster.com.

CLASSES

Climbing wall instructor training

If you are interested in rock climbing and with instruction, the Northbrook Park District is offering a special class for adults to become climbing wall instructors. Participants, aged 18 and over, will learn about harnesses, belaying, climbing and instruction techniques. Candidates will be required to earn a first aid and CPR certification prior to employment. Lunch will be provided during the teaching session, planned for Saturday, March 30 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Meadowhill Park Climbing Wall, located at 1501 Maple Ave. in Northbrook.

For more information, call 847-291-2369.

Spring art classes

Spring is almost here and it is the time to register for classes at the Suburban Fine Arts Center. Classes for adults and children begin April 1 and run until June 9.

Regular classes range from ceramics to jewelry making, sculpture, drawing, painting and printmaking. You can also register now for summer camp for ages 7-9 and 10-13, which run Monday, Wednesday, Friday from 1-3 p.m. with each section taught by a certified art teacher and running for two four-week sessions beginning June 24. Day, evening, weekend and custom classes are all available, too.

SFAC runs one-day, two-day and weekend workshops. You can register by mail, phone or fax. The Suburban Fine Arts Center is located at 1913 Sheridan Rd. in downtown Highland Park. Call 847-432-1888 for more information.

Yoga classes at Gorton

Hatha Yoga classes will continue with popular instructor Kristy Harley at Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Rd. in Lake Forest.

"Hatha Yoga for Teens Only" will be offered on Saturdays, April 6-May 25, from noon-1 p.m. The fee is $64. Great postures (Asanas) will challenge and condition the body, dynamic breathwork will increase energy, flowing sequences will invite connection between body, mind and spirit, deep relaxation and meditation, offering inner peace.

Interested participants should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact the Gorton office at 847-234-6060 or stop by weekdays between 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Gardening classes in April

University of Illinois Extension is offering two gardening classes in April, which will be taught by Extension horticulturist Sharon Yiesla.

"Ornamental Grasses" will be held Tuesday, April 2 at 7-9 p.m. Learn about one of the hottest trends in gardening-ornamental grasses. Find out what they are, how to grow them and how they can be used in the garden. A number of different grass species will be featured.

"Container Gardening" will be held Tuesday, April 9 at 7-9 p.m. The presentation covers the basics of container gardening: how to select a container, which plants to use and proper planting and care of the containers.

These classes are offered at no charge. Advanced registration is required for all sessions due to space limitations in the class. To register for the classes, call the Extension office at 847-223-8627. All sessions will be held at the Extension office, located at 100 S. Highway 45 in Grayslake.

SEMINAR

For chocolate lovers only

Enjoy a 'chocolate tasting feast' on Monday, April 1. Adults are invited to attend a unique chocolate seminar, complete with folklore and information about the benefits of eating chocolate. Twenty-five different gourmet chocolates will be available for taste-testing. This is a perfect couple's 'night out' that begins at 7 p.m. at the Leisure Center, 3323 Walters Ave. in Northbrook. For additional registration information, call 847-291-2980.

help someone else? Come to Congregation Or Shalom, located at 21 Hawthorn Parkway in Vernon Hills, on Sunday, April 4, between 8 a.m.-1 p.m., and donate blood!

By taking 45 minutes out of the day to donate blood, you benefit new babies in need of openheart surgery, cancer patients, and anyone who finds himself injured because he was in the wrong place at the wrong time.

All it takes to be a blood donor is being at least 17 years old, weighing at least 110 pounds and not having donated in 56 days or less.

Stop by, put out your arm and put up your feet—and help save a life!

For additional information, call Or Shalom at 847-362-1948.

WORKSHOPS

Creative Memories

Lake Forest resident and Creative Memories consultant Valerie Linehan will conduct a workshop in creative photograph organization, photo album construction and scrapbook making at Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Rd. in Lake Forest.

The class will take place on Monday, April 8, from 7-9 p.m. The fee is $20 per person. Students will learn how to assemble a long-lasting and creative scrapbook or photo album for friends, family members, teachers or business associates. Bring a pair of scissors and 8-10 photographs. All other materials will be available for purchase.

Interested participants should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact the Gorton office at 847-234-6060 or stop by weekdays between 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

DINNER

Come for dinner

A pizza and ice cream dinner will be served at Congregation Am Echod, 2402 Harbor Ridge Way in Lindenhurst on Saturday, April 13 at 6:30 p.m. Following the dinner, Maariv and Havdalah services will be held.

Congregation Am Echod (Reform) has purchased a new site at the Falling Waters business park on Rte. 45 and is eager to meet new families in the area to help it serve the religious needs of its members.

The dinner and services are open to members and nonmembers. There is no charge. Please RSVP by April 1 by calling 847-662-1359 or 847-336-9110.

SEMINAR:

Financial security seminar

A brand-new Northbrook Park District seminar will be held next month to help women achieve financial security. Entitled "Smart Women Finish Rich," this workshop will introduce simple steps to help determine where you stand financially and how to build financial 'baskets' for retirement. The group will meet on Thursday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Northbrook Library, 1201 Cedar Lane.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 847-291-2980.

Church Ministries Convention

The 63rd annual Chicagoland Tri-State Church Ministries Convention is coming to the Forest View Educational Center, 2121 S. Goebbert Rd. in Arlington Heights, Friday and Saturday, April 5 and 6. This event is geared especially for Christian education and other church ministry leaders and workers, but is certainly appropriate for anyone wanting to learn how to better communicate with others and/or learn more about various areas of Christian growth and church work.

Participants may choose a maximum of eight workshops from over 175 hours of training sessions in many tracks of Sunday school and Christian ministry emphases. All the workshops are taught by professionally-equipped and trained instructors representing Christian education publishers and colleges, and many other specialized ministries as well as local churches.

Registration for this event is $40 for both days.
Additional information or materials may be obtained by calling the Greater Chicago Sunday School Association at 630-279-1155 or fax at 630-279-7915.

'Father of the Bride' at PM&L

ith the complete change of pace, PM&L launches the hilarious comedy "Father of the Bride" by Carolyn Franke on April 5, 6, 12, 13, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. and April 7, 14, and 21 at 2:30 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

Larry Bersie from Silver Lake, Wisc. is director and Robyn Bersie from Grayslake is stage manager. The plot of his comedy unfold as follows: Mr. Banks (Rich Krapf from Waukegan) learns that one of the young men he has seen occasionally at his house (Darryl Bromley from Wadsworth playing Buckley Dunston) is about to become his son-in-law. Daughter Kay (Amy DeLamoreux from Carpentersville) announces the engagement out of nowhere. Mrs. Banks (Donna Abear from Antioch) and her sons Ben and Tommy (Mike Pollitt and Phil Bednar from Antioch) are happy, but Mr. Banks is in a dither. The groom to-be appears on the scene, and Mr. Banks realizes that the engagement is serious. Buckley and Kay don't want a "big" wedding, just a simple affair with a few friends. We soon learn that the "few" friends' idea is out and the trouble really begins. The guest list keeps growing, a caterer is called in, florists, furniture movers and dressmakers take over, and the Banks household is soon caught in turmoil. To find out the resolution to all the problems, come see the play.

Call 847-395-1333 for reservations. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors.

ICODance! dance concert performs 'Emotion'

CODance!, the professional dance company affiliated with the Northbrook-based International Center on Deafness and the Arts (ICODA), presents an annual dance concert entitled "Emotions," April 5-7 at the CenterLight Theatre, 3444 Dundee Rd., in Northbrook at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 3 p.m. on Sunday.

ICODance! is one of the few professional dance companies in the nation to feature dancer who are deaf, hard of hearing and hearing performing together. Because many of the dancers cannot hear music, ICODance! uses interpreted song and dance, which is a translation of popular songs into American Sign Language. This creative method of expression is one of the most compelling elements of the program as the dancers blend music, motion and language into an expressive movement. Performers range in age from 7-18 and are actively involved in dance training.

"Emotions" features dancers who are deaf, hard of hearing and hearing impaired from local high schools. Tickets are $10 for adults and $9 for senior and students and $8 for children.

ture daisy-growing muffin hat.

"The white-face makeup hid my blush when I was starting out," she said. "There was some comfort in being behind the makeup and the clothes."

Neckermann said she's never been much of a game player so she doesn't incorporate many games into her act. "I mostly work by myself," she said. "Part of it is just the logistics. But, it's also a matter of what you like."

Daisy Muffin is known for her balloon twisting, magic, storytelling and singing-rabbit puppet "Felix."

In addition to belonging to three clowning clubs (Cousin Otto's Clown Alley in Delavan, Wis., the Midwest Clown Association and Grumpbusters Club in Antioch), Neckermann is also a member of the McHenry County Storytellers Guild, the South East Wisconsin Magical Entertainers Club and Northern Knights Magic Club. "My interest in magic came from my interest in clowning," she said. "The information is endless."

While Clowning Around happily trains suitable recruits as long as they stay and work for the company, there are other ways to get started in the business.

"I recommend going to Clown Camp in LaCrosse, Wis.," said Neckermann. "The camp is one week long and it gives you a full range of all the options out there." She added that professionals from around the country who are exceptional in their field of expertise teach the classes offered.

Additionally, the World Clown Association (www.worldclownassociation.com) has been in existence since 1983 and focuses on "education in clown arts and spreading the art of clowning around the world." This group hosts an annual convention in the United States to support clowning endeavors.

"The Clown Camp and the conventions are really great," said Neckermann. "They give you an opportunity to see what's new within the industry. There are vendors there too with things like shoes and wigs and balloons."

Neckermann said that other local clowns have served as mentors to her.

She credits Don "Stubbles" Renimer, of Lake Villa, with teaching her how to make many of her favorite balloon animals. "Stubbles has been a hobo clown for about 28 years and balloons are really his big thing," Neckermann said. "He really helped me out a lot when I was starting."

Clowns, whether independent or hired from a company like Clowning Around, are hired for birthday parties, block parties, family reunions, company picnics, grand openings among other events. Spring and summer are the busy clown seasons.

"As soon as you know the date of the event, we recommend you call for a clown," said Suzanne. Despite having dozens of clowns, jobs are booked based on location and availability.

Neckermann concurs that calling early is the best policy. "Sometimes I can make it the next day, but it's not good to count on that. I use contracts when I set things up, and it's just better to have a little more time for planning."

Daisy Muffin is available in the northern part of Lake County and southern Wisconsin. Clowning Around has clowns available in all of the Chicago collar counties.

porate these fundamental starting points.

Their recipe for "Chocolate-Hazelnut-Caramel Bars" involves a few steps, but it's a keeper. This is one you'll want to go back to repeatedly.

Chocolate-Hazelnut-Caramel Bars

Crust

2 cups flour

½ cup powdered sugar Finely grated zest of 1 orange

1 tsp. pure vanilla extract Pinch of salt

1 cup cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces Caramel filling

2 ½ cups sugar

1 cup water

1 1/4 cups heavy whipping cream

½ cup hazelnut liqueur

1 tsp. pure vanilla extract ½ tsp. ground nutmet

2 cups ground toasted hazelnuts Ganache

12 oz. bittersweet chocolate, coarsely chopped 1 ¼ cups heavy whipping cream

1 Tbl. unsalted butter

Preheat the oven to 375 degrees. Grease a 12 by 18-in. sheet pan well and set aside. To prepare the crust, place the flour, powdered sugar, orange zest, vanilla extract and salt in a food processor. With the machine running, slowly add the pieces of butter and process until the dough comes together to form a ball. Press the dough into the prepared pan. Bake just until the crust is set, about 10 minutes (don't let the crust get brown at all). Let cool for at least 15 minutes.

Lower the oven temperature to 350 degrees.

To prepare the filling, place the sugar in a large sauté pan or a heavy saucepan. Gently moisten the sugar with the water, being careful not to splash the water and sugar onto the sides of the pan. Cook the sugar mixture over high heat, without stirring, until you see it turning brown, then swirl the pan to even out the color. Cook until golden brown, about 2 minutes longer. Carefully add the cream, taking care to pour it in slowly because it will bubble up violently. Add the hazelnut liqueur and cook until the caramelized sugar has liquefied again and the sauce is very smooth and a deep golden brown, about 5 minutes. Remove the pan from the heat, add the vanilla extract, nutmeg and hazelnuts, and mix well. Pour the filling over the crust. Bake until the filling is set and is bubbly, about 30 minutes. Cool for 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, to prepare the ganache, place the chocolate in a food processor. Place the cream and butter in a heavy saucepan over medium-high heat and bring just to a boil. Once the cream begins to boil, turn on the food processor, add the cream through the feed tube and process until very smooth. Pour the ganache over the cooled bars and refrigerate for 2 hours. To serve, cut the bars into 2 by 2-in. squares.

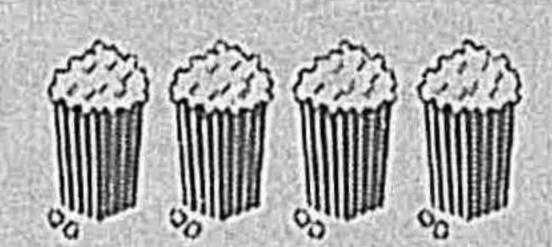

Reel Movies

eg Altman (Jodie Foster) got a wad of money in her divorce settlement and is looking for a high-end place to live on New York's Upper West Side with her daughter Sarah (Kristen Stewart). What they find is a 4,800-square-foot, three-story brownstone with an elevator, six fireplaces, and most notably of all, a state of the art panic room. This room is not just a hiding place, but essentially a bank vault with its own phone, TV monitoring, HVAC system, food, medical supplies, whatever you'd need in a time of crisis.

Home invasion is high on the list of crises and that's just what happens. Three men break into the home, Meg and Sarah see them on the monitoring system and they scramble to secure themselves in the panic room. Meg wants the men to leave; however what they want is in the panic room. It seems that the former owner was eccentric to the point of hiding his money (now missing) in that chamber. The thieves are surprised to find the house occupied so soon after it was placed on the market. Because of other pending events, it's now or never to get the money.

A touch of Edgar Allen

Burnham (Forest Whitaker) is a man who needs money, and prefers to avoid hurting anyone. He worked for the company that installed the panic room so he's able to bypass some of the systems that were thought to be impenetrable. We are tempted to tell you more but that would keep you from having as much fun as we had watching this thriller. Suffice it to say that Jodi Foster uses her intelligence to turn a story that appears would run out of gas in 30 minutes into what will undoubtedly be one of the best thrillers of the year.

Raoul (Dwight Yoakam) is a bad guy who you just hope gets his due by the end of the picture. Junior (Jared Leto) is the spoiled rich kid who is guiding this inside job so he does not have to equally share the proceeds with the other heirs. We like Whitaker and Foster so much that it does not compute that these two could be in a film together that we would not enjoy.

Like the best Michael Douglas and Morgan Freeman thrillers (e.g. "Perfect Murder" and "Along Came a Spider"), "The Panic Room" has a similar level of suspense mixed with delicious evil in which we see good triumph in the end. The best films have a good set-up, a better middle and a startling ending; "Panic Room" has all three. This is a film where half the fun is in smiling as you tell your friends that they'll have to see the movie to learn why you liked it so much because, like with "The Sixth Sense," you're not telling!

L to R; Jared Leto stars as Junior, Jodie Foster stars at Meg and Kristen Stewart stars as Sarah in the Columbia Pictures thriller, "Panic Room."

JUST ASK FOR THE COMBO #3

Opening this Week

Clockstoppers TUTT A sweet and engaging comedy, with wonderful energy and a great cast. It's sort of a "Back to the Future" for this age.

The Rookie TITT For parents looking to take their young children to a movie that all can enjoy, "The Rookie" is a blessing. The true story of a high school teacher and baseball coach Jim Morris who, at the age of 35, became the oldest major league rookie in nearly 30 years.

NEW RELEASES

New releases, currently playing at local theaters. Full reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Still Playing

Blade 2 3 7 7 This film perfectly executes the feel of a live action comic book (on which the series is based) and the smoothed-out style of a rapid-fire video game.

E.T. The Extra Terrestrial 20th anniversary of its 1982 release, ET is as winning as ever.

Ice Age TIMA A patchwork family composed of a saber-tooth tiger, a woolly mammoth and a sloth rescue a lost human infant and try to return him to his tribe.

John Q III A factory worker father takes over a hospital to force authorities to place his child on the heart transplant list when he learns that because he has inadequate insurance, his son is being sent home to die.

Monster's Ball TUTUT A prison guard/executioner inadvertently becomes romantically and emotionally involved with the wife of a man he executes. Halle Berry won Oscar as best actress.

Time Machine TITE At the turn of the 20th century a brilliant scientist and inveterate inventor time travels into the far distant future where he discovers that humankind has evolved along two different paths.

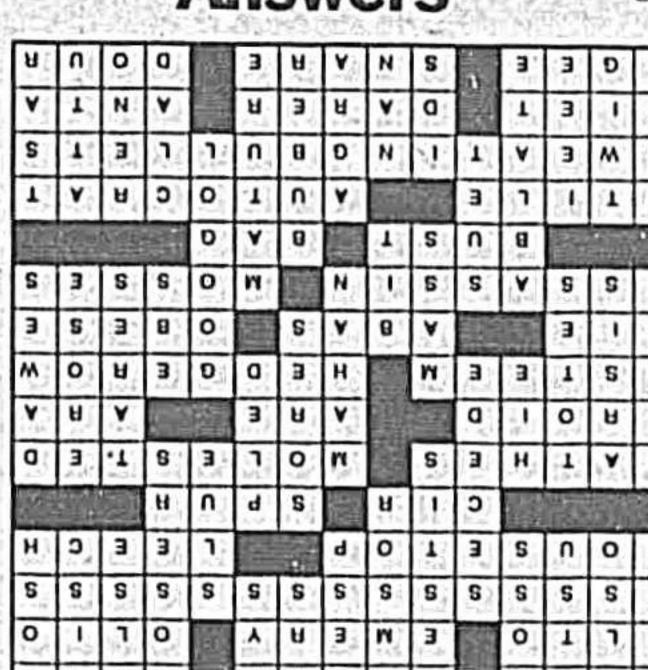

We Were Soldiers To The true story of the first major land battle in Vietnam between the Vietcong and soldiers from the United States.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Your world is a mix of love and adventure this week, Aries. Impulse runs wild but it never steers you wrong. You do your best while sharing fun with friends.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't start any new projects this week, Taurus. You are known to anger easily and sometimes can be slow to learn new things. It's best if you stick with the basics.

Gemini – May 22/June 21

Expect positive developments in a working relationship, friendship or romance. For you this week, Gemini, actions speak louder than words, so move forward.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Less is more this week, Cancer, because it won't take much for people to warm up to you. Consider curbing your spending on any excesses and concentrate strictly towards investments.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Your senses are alive, Leo, and you're feeling invincible. You leave a path of change at work and others are inspired to follow your lead — with varied degrees of success.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

You can't find a system that caters solely to your needs, Virgo. You have to admit that sometimes it won't go your way. Keep things simple for this

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

It's a rare day when you have all of the answers in your hand, Libra. It's best if you seek the advice of others when it comes to a big decision. Work relations improve.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

In a clash of wills this week, Scorpio, you will come out the loser. Your opponent has so much power that a fair fight is impossible. Walk away with your head high.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Time and distance are no match for Sagittarians who work their extensive connections. You are a person who definitely understands how to network. Your smile this week is proof that you're on top.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Write a thank-you note to someone who has done you a favor lately, Capricorn. It is best if you try to rekindle old friendships. A valuable relationship needs to be refreshed or reinforced this week.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

It's best if you curb your sudden feeling of aggression, Aquarius. You can put the energy to better use. Make a list of top ideas and put a plan in motion. Gemini is key to the plan.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You're feeling a bit disconnected from the world lately, Pisces. It's nothing to get worried about. You just need some time to yourself and then you'll reacquaint yourself with the norm.

Commercial growth in LLV Chamber spotlight

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER Staff Reporter

If there was a common theme at the March 26 Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce Luncheon, it was up-and-coming commercial growth in the township.

With both villages de-emphasizing residential building in favor of creating a commercial tax base, each of the mayors was eager to share news of new and developing ventures

Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk announced Vista Healthcare is preparing plans to build a 120-bed full-service facility on the Victory Lakes campus. (See County section B for more details.)

He also revealed that Walgreen's has committed to building a new store on the southeast corner of Rte. 45 and Sand Lake Road, the former Dutch Gardens site. The drugstore will occupy 14,490 square feet, with a separate retail building of 11,728 square feet on the property.

Adjacent to the pharmacy site, RJB automotive will be expanding its plaza to include two more stores this spring.

Jewel-Osco has informed the mayor "it is assured we will move ahead. The question is when, not if." The corporation owns a parcel on the southwest corner of Rte. 45 and Sand Lake Road.

At the Lindenhurst Business Park at Falling Waters, two religious institutions have purchased land in anticipation of new buildings: Heritage Lutheran Church and (Reform Jewish) Congregation Am Echod. Am Echod, originally based in Waukegan, now holds services in a building located behind the Waterford Commons strip mall in Lindenhurst.

Mallard Ridge Apartments, owned by Red Seal, has informally proposed a clubhouse, pool and garages to upgrade its facilities. No plans have been presented to the plan commission to date.

Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo announced the grand opening of C&F Packing set for next month. C&F, a family-owned business, prepares processed meat products for such end-users as Johnsonville and Pizza Hut. Their new 100,000 square-foot facility is located in Park Place on Rte. 83. The facility brought about 100 new jobs to the area.

Rosen Mazda, on Grand Avenue, just west of the library, has been operating for a few weeks, but it will be a few weeks more before they hold their official grand opening, according to Loffredo.

The mayor anticipates groundbreaking in the near future for Nielsen Enterprises new 125,000 square-foot facility on Rte. 83, fronting the old Lehmann property.

The village is continuing with plans to develop the Lehmann Mansion.

"According to the first reports, the structure is good," said Loffredo. "We've gotten help from State Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) in getting money for the roof and some foundation work."

The village is exploring a variety of applications for the building. It has already let the building for corporate seminars, and is looking into other ways to market its use by outside entities.

Grayslake high school, park dist grow closer

By ROB MOLL Staff Reporter

The Grayslake Park District and Grayslake Community High school have re-arranged the official nature of their relationship. The park district will now be a Class Two user of the high school's facilities.

As a class two user, the park district will enjoy lower fees for the use of high school facilities.

According to the high school Business Manager Laurie Pechauer, a class two user is one that benefits Grayslake Community High School students. Pechauer said at the latest high school board meeting that the park district fits those requirements

"That's good for us," said Grayslake
Park District Executive Director Bob Lashbrook.

Lashbrook said the change would not affect the participants of park district classes that use the high school facilities.

The high school and park district will also team up to pay for a pedestrian traffic study on Lake Street. The study will determine pedestrian traffic flow from the high school across Lake and through Central Park.

ost of us are in tune with what's going on. But for those unfamiliar, but there will be sports indefinitely at Waukegan High School. Furthermore, there will be yet another sectional tournament for boys hoops next year.

The fate of both took shape at about 10 p.m. on Election Day last week.

Needless to say, Waukegan High Athletic Director Rolly Vazquez had a big smile on his face when the morning after rolled around.

"It's such a relief," he said. "It was a pretty intense evening, though. Everyone wanted me to go to victory parties. I was a little tentative because you couldn't help but think what if this doesn't pass. There won't be any sports here. And with no sports, there won't be a need for an athletic director."

Instead, the former Waukegan grad stayed home and spent the evening with his family while watching the votes come in on his computer.

By around 10:30 p.m., Vazquez woke his wife Stacey to inform her of the good news.

"I saw that about three-fourths of the precincts were counted and I knew," said the former Waukegan grad. "I was still nervous at that point but I kind of knew we passed it (the referendum). My wife also works in the school district, so we both were obviously very interested in the outcome."

The excitement was evident the next day, especially from the athletes.

"They (most of the athletes) all went out and voted," said Vazquez. "It paid off. All of the athletes I saw (the next day) were excited as well as relieved."

The referendum that we make inference to passed by a vote of 8,491-3,866. That translates to 68.7 percent voted yes while a meager 31.3 percent went the other way.

Last year, Waukegan had to cut four sports, including boys tennis and swimming, and girls badminton and gymnastics.

But until further notice, all other sports, and sectional boys basketball, is here to stay.

Lindsey Richards of Barrington High School and Johanna Solverson of Lake Zurich High School are about to join the ranks of the basketball elite, as they have been chosen as final team members to play on the first-ever McDonald's All-American high school girls basketball team.

As McDonald's All-American Game team members, Richardson and Solverson will play among the top 24 female high school basketball players in the nation. Richardson is a 5-9 guard and Solverson is a 6-3 guard-forward. Both plan to play for Iowa next fall.

The historic girls game will be played as a double-header with the 25th anniversary McDonald's All-American game for boys and will take place on April 4 at Madison Square Garden in New York City, home of the WNBA New York Liberty and NBA New York Knicks. The girls game tips off at 5:30 p.m. (EST) and will be broadcast on ESPN2, while the boy's game will start at 8 and will be broadcast live on ESPN.

Lindsey Richards and Johanna Solverson

Congratulations to Special Olympics winners for their performance at the Winter Games last month. Blake Peacock, representing Libertyville High School, took second in the giant slalom and second in the slalom. Antioch's Mark Serritella, representing Northern Illinois SRA of Crystal Lake, was second in the 100-meter cross-country skiing, second in the 1 kilometer cross-country skiing, and first in the 500-meter crosscountry skiing. Representing the Special Education District of Lake County, Libertyvile's Ian Copeland earned secondplace honors in the 800-meter snowshoe race.

2001-02 Lakeland Media All Area Boys Basketball Team

Steve Peterson, Rob Backus, and John Phelps contributed to this report. Photos taken by Sandy Bressner, Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom, Marc Jenkins, David Krueger and Steve Young.

Player of the Year

Quentin Herring, Warren

The 6-3 senior forward was uncanny when it came to being around the ball. Averaged 16 points and nine rebounds. Also blocked 28 shots on the year. Was a state qualifier in the IHSA Slam Dunk contest. Named All-North Suburban and Illinois Basketball Coaches Association Honorable Mention All-State.

Co-coaches of the Year

Jim Goodwin, Libertyville

Phil Ralston, Grant

Again, a tough choice. Chuck Ramsey's Blue Devils made it to the sectional finals. But the Cats posted their first winning season (21-6) in Goodwin's four years at the helm. Libertyville also won the North Suburban Lake Division title. As for Grant, what a difference a year makes. After winning only eight games last season, Ralston and the Dogs posted a 20-win season (20-6) for the fifth time in school history, including the first in 15 years. Finished second in the NSC Prairie while making it to the regional finals.

Defensive Player of the Year

Andrew Wynne, Grant

The 6-5 junior forward led Grant just about every statisticategory. In Grant's 20-win season, averaged 16 points, 7 boards and close to 5 assists. On defense, his quickness produced 67 steals while his size helped him net 2.4 blocks per contest.

Newcomer of the Year

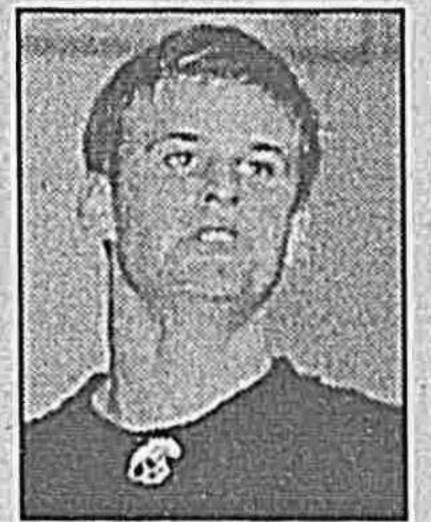

Matt Corning, Mundelein

Only a sophomore, 6-2 forward came back from a back injury to average 8 points and a team-high 6 boards Christmas after break.

First Team

Ryan White, Grayslake

In a season of drastic improvement for the Rams, the 5-11 senior guard stepped up his game, averaging 10 points and five boards.

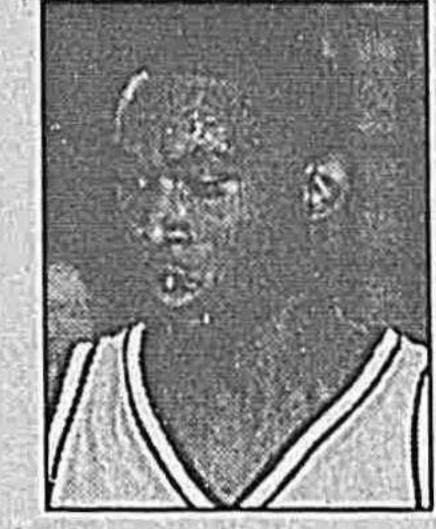

Dave Behm, Grant

When the 6-4 senior center wasn't chipping in with his 11 points and 7 boards per game clip, you'd usually find him diving for loose balls or deflecting passes. Shot 50 percent from the field and collected almost two steals per game.

Amon Ross, Mundelein

The 5-8 senior guard was the sparkplug and floor general for the Mustangs, averaging points, 3 rebounds and 3 assists per game.

Dre Gant, Round Lake

The 6-5 junior center was among one of the county leaders in scor-(11.3) rebounding (8.3).

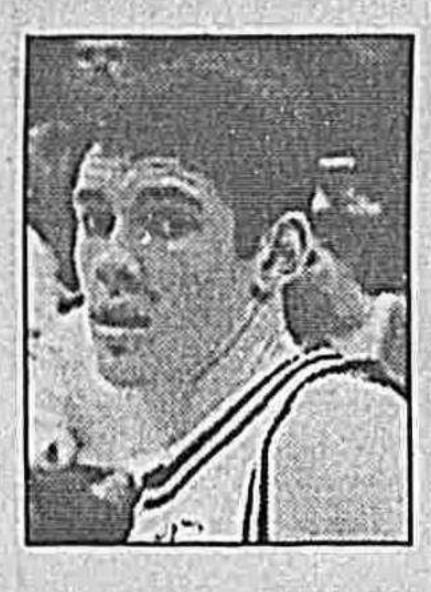

Brian Walsh, Antioch

senior sharpshooting guard, voted the Sequoits team MVP, averaged 10.5 ppg while shooting 75 percent from the foul line and 38 percent from long range.

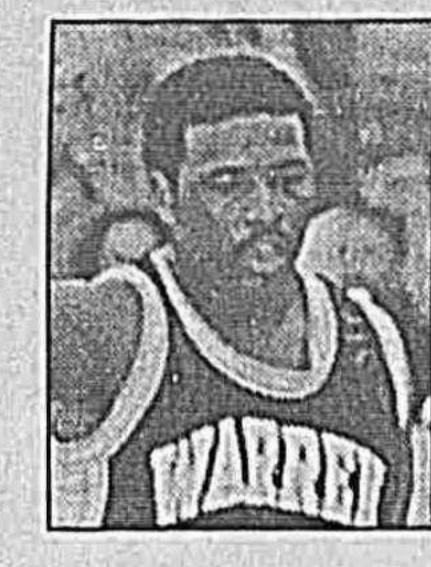

Matt Glees, Vernon Hills

The 6-2 senior guard lit up the scoreboard to the tune of 20 points per game. Named IBCA Special Mention All-State, also hit 42 treys while shooting 56 percent from the field.

Brian Schlemm, Carmel

The 6-7 senior forward averaged 12.5 points and 5 rebounds per contest. Was a state qualifier in the IHSA Slam Dunk contest.

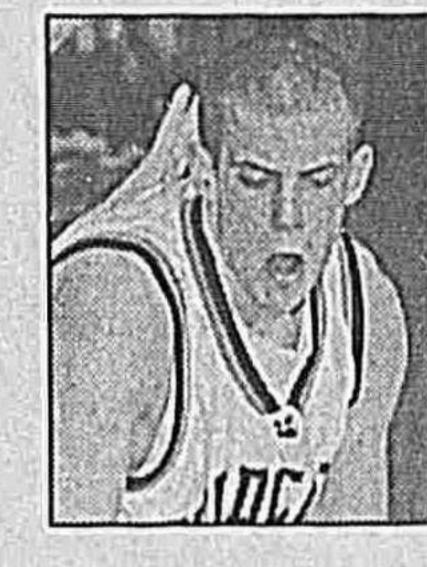

Ashton Hughes, Warren

The 6-0 senior guard averaged close to 11 points and 3 assists per game. Really stepped up in the playoffs, hitting two game-winning shots against Stevenson in the regional finals and Zion-Benton in the sectional semifinals.

Brad Breakfield, Wauconda

The 6-7 senior center was the main weapon on offense, averaging 12 points and 7 boards per contest. The twoyear varsity starter was co-captain and named the team MVP.

Pete Silvestri, Libertyville

One of the main cogs in the Cats offense, the 6-8 senior center finished third in the county in scoring (16.6) and second in rebounding (8.9) in helping lead the Cats to a 20-win season. Named All-NSC and IBCA Special Mention All-State.

Energy, motivation sparks Antioch dancers

By JOHN PHELPS Sports Editor

Talk about setting a precedent.

The Antioch varsity girls dance team has certainly done just that, especially over the last 5-6 years.

After winning the state title in the kick routine two years ago, the Sequoits backed that up with second-place efforts in both the prop and kick last year.

Any letdown? Not with these girls.

"We had had some problems earlier in the week but everything just clicked for us when we went in to our kick routine," said junior Lindsey Bailey, a three-year team member.

Donning their Wonder Woman costumes and dazzling the crowd to the song "I Need a Hero", the girls wound up taking second in kick at the Illinois Dance Team Association State competition held over the weekend at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

The team first performed their funk routine earlier in the day, where they took second after scoring a 175.5, three points behind eventual champ St. Charles East.

"We did well in the funk—none of us were nervous," added Bailey. "It was kind of like a warm-up though for the kick routine. We were really pumped for that. We just went back to our hotel and practiced."

Feeding off of that energy between their routines, the girls then scored a 172 in kick, six points behind champion Fremd.

"We went out and did probably the best and cleanest routine (in the kick) that we've ever done," added Bailey. "We later watched it (the kick routine on video). The spacing and the lines were good. We were all shocked at how well we did. And that was our goal-no matter what place we finished—to do the best we could."

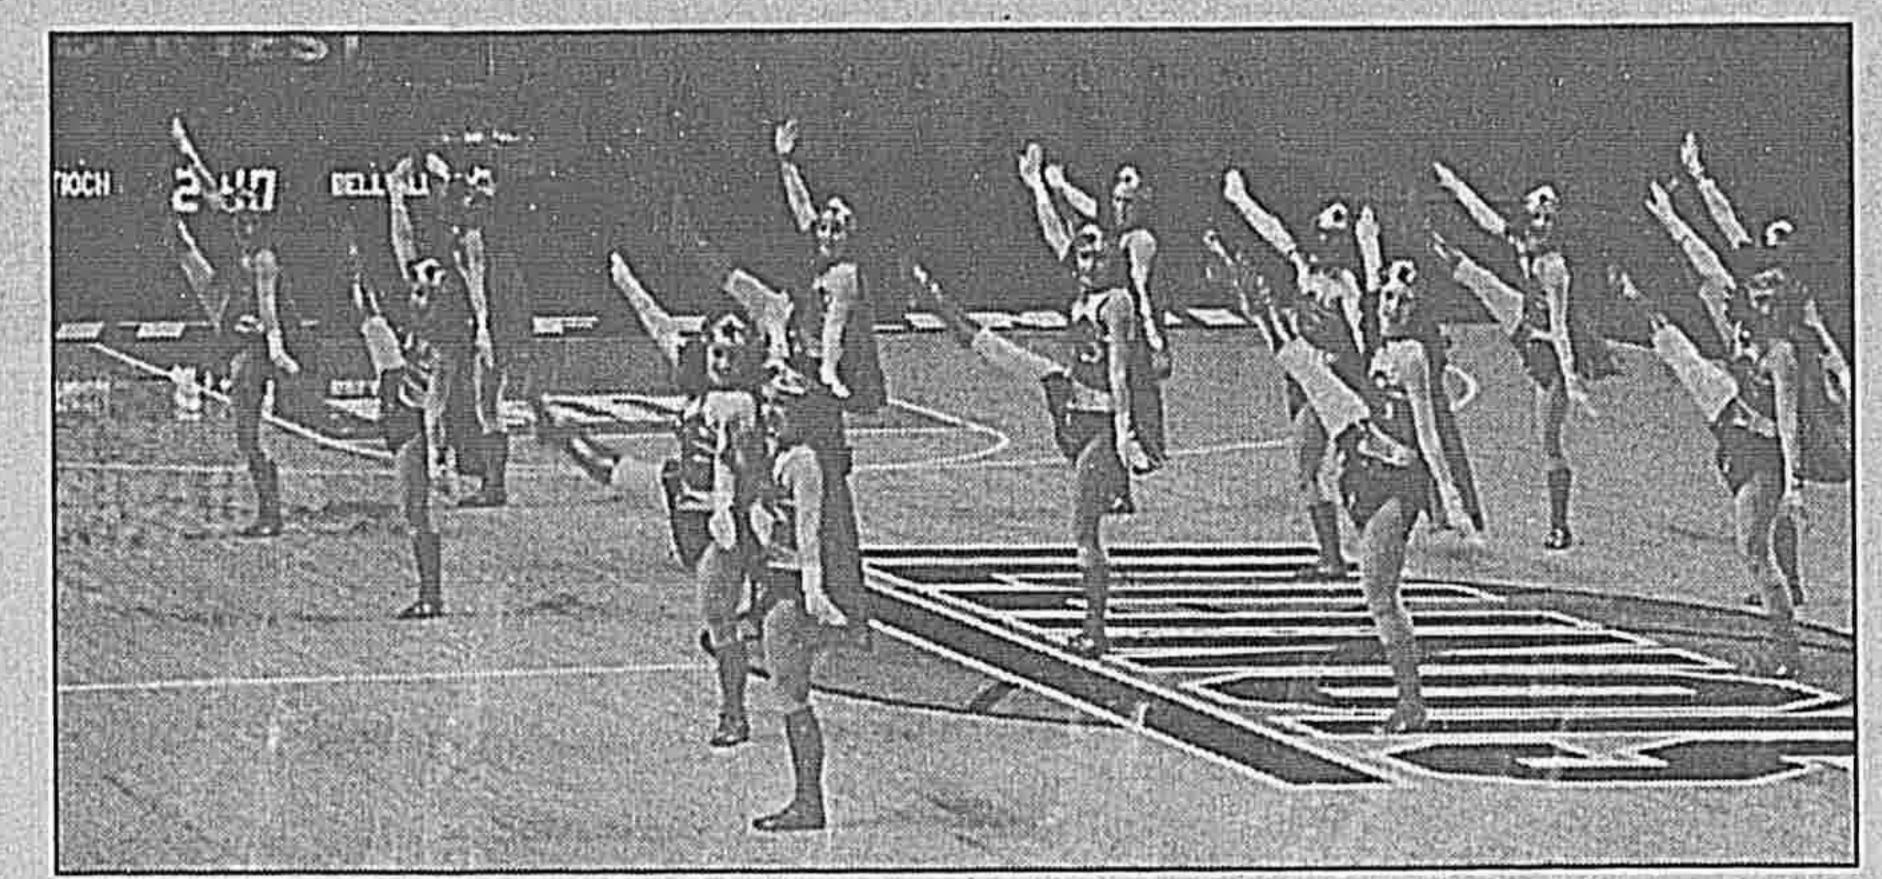

Senior co-captain Kim Boyer had fond memories of not only this past weekend, but the last three as well.

"We were so focused—the girls gave 100 percent," said Boyer. "I'm tremendously proud of myself and the team. It'll be kind of an identity crisis, though. I've done poms all my life and now that it's over, I'm not going to know what to do with myself."

Boyer, amidst her uncertainties, does have some pretty nice plans ahead of her. Starting next fall, she will attend Arizona State University, where she'll be a member of the R.O.T.C.

Both Bailey and Boyer pointed out that during the break in between the funk and kick routine, the girls made sure that their safety pins were not sticking out.

According to Illinois Drill Team Association (IDTA) rules, no part of a safety pin can be showing on the clothing of the competitors during their performances. Although Antioch coaches, performers, and fans disagree, the judges thought otherwise, deducting points from the Sequoits score. Not enough points however, were deducted to keep Antioch from qualifying for state.

"It's a very controversial rule," said Antioch senior co-captain Ashley Ginascol. "It really hasn't been cleared up yet."

Antioch had qualified for the state tourney in the two routines by virtue of its top-four finishes at the Harlem super-sectional.

Tryouts for next year's team are scheduled for mid-April.

Carmel to host Fifth annual Final Four party

By ROB BACKUS Staff Reporter

In 1998, Carmel athletic director Andy Bitto implemented the beginning of a 10-year plan to improve the school's athletic facilities. In addition to various fund-raising activities, the big money maker for Carmel has been the annual Final Four party.

Now in its fifth-year, the Final Four parties have raised over $100,000 for various improvements to Carmel's athletic facilities. In the previous four years, the money has gone to the construction of new softball and soccer fields on the campus, new bleachers for the football field and a new weight room. This year, Bitto hopes to rebuild the athletic training room.

Last year's party was the biggest yet, with over 400 people gathering in the Pat Salvi Arena, raising over $28,000 for the school.

This year's event figures to be even bigger as Bitto expects to sell around 475 tickets at $100 apiece.

For the cost of $100 per couple, attendees will be able to watch the Final Four on three big-screen projection televisions while snacking on various items including chicken wings. The cost of pop and beer is included in the admission fee. Also included is a buffet dinner featuring beef, chicken and mostaccioli.

In addition, Bulls, Cubs and Sox tickets will be raffled off in addition to a 50/50 raffle. Attendees also have the chance to win $10,000 by winning a raffle which coast $100 per ticket.

Sequoit booters 'tenacious'

By WESLEY WARD Correspondent

Led by four-year starter Lauren Hungarland, the Antioch varsity girls soccer team will look to improve upon last year's 13-10 mark.

And after two games already, Head Coach Charlie Trout is confident that his team can challenge every team it plays.

"I think we will have a nice season," said Trout. "Personally I expect our team to improve every game and challenge each team we play."

Last week, the Sequiots started the season in strong fashion with a 2-1 victory over Prairie Ridge. That was followed by a 1-1 deadlock with Cary Grove.

"I am pleased with our performances last week," said Trout. "We played two very strong teams and fought with them till the

If the Sequiots hope to go far this season

Already off to a solid 1-0-1 start, Antioch has got off on the right foot and the Sequiots will look to maintain their early success at Grant. Kick-off is slated for 4:30 p.m.

Jr. Sequoits up-and-down

The Antioch Junior Sequoits sixth-grade boy's basketball team defeated Grant but lost to Richmond and Waukegan in an up-anddown week.

In a 40-36 win over Grant, Trey Williams (15 points), and Chris Palmer (eight points) were the leading scorers. Andrew Stein, John Androus, Dan Kalb and Timmy David also turned in solid performances for Antioch.

In a 44-37 loss to Richmond, the Sequoits were led by Williams and Stein with 12 points apiece. Austin Grimm, James Androus, Palmer and Kalb played well in the loss.

In a 61-37 loss to Waukegan, Williams (14) points) and John Androus (six points) were the leading scorers. Also playing well for Antioch were: Matt Laine, Steve Nosek, Jimmy Hansen, Stein, Palmer and Grimm.

The seventh grade junior Sequoits fared much better than their sixth grade counterparts, winning three of four games.

In its first game, Antioch beat Wauconda 54-31.

The Sequoits were led by Chuckie Kempf (10 points), Sean Hertz (eight points, five steals), Will Harrison (eight points, 10 rebounds, three assists), Tom Bennecke (eight points, eight rebounds) and Tim McGowan (six points, seven rebounds).

Craig Holst and Brett McKenzie also had solid efforts.

In their next game, the Sequoits were trounced by Waukegan 56-30. Hertz and Harrison each had eight points and David Cenedella added six points in the loss.

Antioch was able to bounce back in a big way in its next game to decimate Richmond

Lindenhurst is getting 120-bed hospital

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER Staff Reporter

Tim Harrington, President and CEO of Vista Healthcare, announced plans to develop a fullservice hospital on the Victory Lakes campus in Lindenhurst.

The proposed 120-bed hospital will offer an emergency room, pediatrics, obstetrics and full diagnostic services.

Vista hopes to break ground in the spring of 2003, with the hospital opening planned for late 2004.

The 60-acre Victory Lakes campus, located on Grand Avenue east of Rte. 83, now houses an ambulatory care facility as well as a 120-bed nursing home. Other senior care services on the property include 60units for assisted living and a retirement community of 100 apartments and 40 townhomes.

Harrington broke the news Tuesday at the Lindenhurst Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Hastings Lake YMCA in Lindenhurst.

The new 5-story hospital will be designed to "wrap-around" the existing buildings. The project is estimated to cost at least $120 million, and is expected to create about 1,000 jobs on the campus.

The 3-year-old ambulatory care center now employs 250 people, while the senior residential facilities employ about 35 people.

"At inception (about 15 years ago) Victory pledged to build a firstclass medical campus, through time," said Lindenhurst Village Administrator Jim Stevens. "You have to be here a while to see this happen."

Anticipating additional needs, Harrington said a medical office building would not be far behind, as the long-term project continues.

"The demographics of northern Lake County indicate this is one of the fastest growing counties, with the northwest quadrant growing twice as fast as the rest," Harrington

"If you (in Lake Villa Township) need a hospital now, the trip takes at least 30 minutes to St. Therese," he said, pointing out the trip to Condell Hospital in Libertyville could take even longer.

Those in need of a hospital in the westernmost portion of the county now tend to use Centegra's Northern Illinois Medical Center, located in McHenry, about a 20minute ride from Fox Lake.

Although traffic studies will be done, no problems are anticipated in accommodating emergency vehicles. In 2000, the Victory Lakes complex entrance on Grand Avenue at Red Oak Lane was realigned with Deep Lake Road and provided with new traffic signals. to facilitate increased traffic.

The Lake Villa Rescue Squad headquarters is located directly across the street, on Grand Avenue and Deep Lake Road.

Harrington

When the campus was created in 1987, the village of Lindenhurst invested nearly $2 million in infrastructure to accommodate the complex, including a direct link with the village waste treatment center.

Vista, the largest health care provider in Lake County, incorporates Victory Hospital and St. Therese Medical Center, both located in Waukegan.

Vista's annual revenues are around $173 million, with $71 million spent on salaries for 2,500 employees. Victory Hospital has been in existence for over 110 years, and St. Therese has operated for about 90 years. The two hospitals would be merged in the St. Therese complex, with Victory Hospital going up for sale.

Leafblad challenging Dist. 6 primary results

By ROB MOLL Staff Reporter

Larry Leafblad, county board representative for District 6, decided this week to review results of the March 19 primary election.

Leafblad lost to Don Bauer in a close race for the Republican nomination for county board in last week's primary election. Bauer won by 17 votes.

Last week, Leafblad said he would not ask for a recount.

Leafblad said, "there were some unusually high under-votes." He is concerned that some voters did not receive the correct ballot, and therefore did not vote in the election.

"Its goofy," he added.

Leafblad said he is not saying anything against anyone involved in the election. He is concerned, however, that confusion in many polling places across Lake County may have caused some voters to receive the wrong ballot.

According to Lake County Elections Executive Kathy Needham, the number of different types of ballots could make things complicated for election judges. She said that there were many different ballot styles and some precincts had split county boards and state representative races.

Judges did not have to deal with different equipment. This was the second election that judges used the current election equipment.

According to Needham, a candidate may file with the county clerk to review election results in the candidate's vote tally is within 5 percent of the winner's tally. The deadline to file is April 1, but Leafblad filed on March 26.

There is a $10 for each precinct reviewed, said Needham.

The person requesting, said Needham, may review up to 25 percent of the precincts his the district.

If the candidate discovers something, he or she may petition the circuit court to attempt to overturn the election results.

Last April, following the mayoral election in Waukegan, a candidate petitioned the circuit court to change the results of the election, but the election was not overturned.

Leafblad said that he will look at the election materials in the seven precincts. By comparing the number of ballots to the number expected to be there, Leafblad could determine if the number of under-votes was due to a mistake.

It may end up that after a review Bauer would win by a larger margin, said Leafblad.

Whatever the final outcome, Leafblad said that he owes it to himself and to his district to make sure that no stone is left unturned.

If he decides to petition the court, Leafblad would have to pay the fees and lawyers himself. Some people have already volunteered to contribute to a fund to support Leafblad.

Forest Preserve buys Camp Duncan

Purchase of a new 130-acre Forest Preserve along the eastern shore of Fish Lake near Volo has been approved by the Lake County Forest Preserves' Board of Commissioners.

Known as the YMCA Camp Duncan East Property, the 130 acres was purchased for approximately $1,9 million. It marks the 16th acquisition made using funds from the successful, voter-approved November 2000 referendum. The acquisition increases the total acres of Forest Preserves in Lake County to 23,870 acres.

"This new preserve not only protects sensitive wetlands, but also provides an important link in our new Millennium Trail," said Al Westerman, Forest Preserve President. "Hikers, bicyclists and birdwatchers all will enjoy the scenic views and wildlife along Fish Lake."

Fish Lake has been identified as being part of an Advance Identification (ADID) wetland complex because of its high quality wildlife habitat and native plant communities in wetlands around the lake. Several areas of sedge meadow are associated with the shoreline and surrounding wetlands, and also include Prairie cordgrass and Indian grass.

As part of the purchase agreement, the forest preserves and YMCA agreed that the extensive high quality wetlands along the shores of Fish Lake will be used only for natural resource preservation and restoration.

The new preserve also features an interior pond and rolling hills that offer beautiful views. Based upon observations, the lake and wetlands are used by a wide variety of waterfowl including black terns and yellow-headed blackbirds. The site has extensive frontage on Fish Lake Road and will help maintain the scenic quality of this countrylike road.

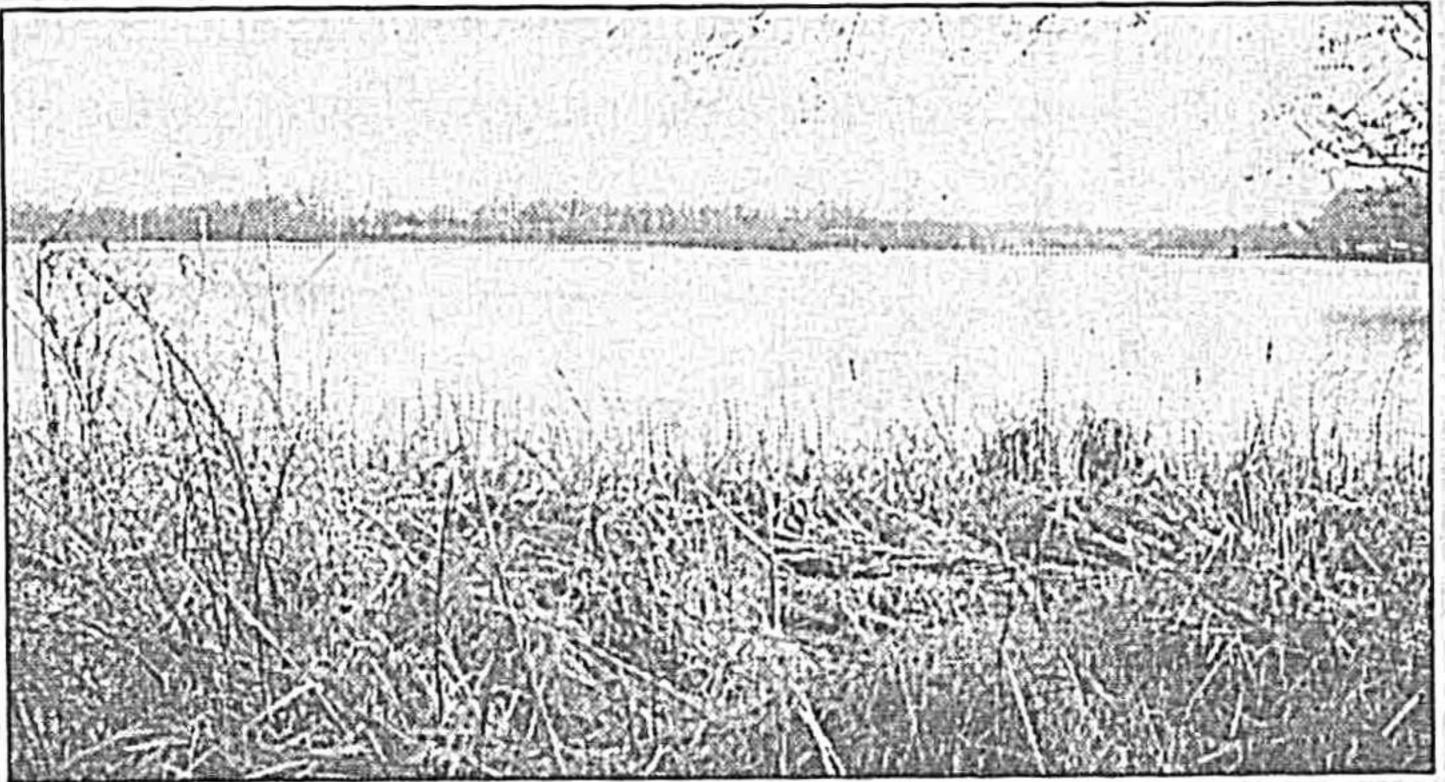

The site also provides a route for the Lake County Forest Preserves' 35-mile Millennium Trail through central, western and northern Lake County. The first length of this new trail will open this year from Countryside Golf Course near Mundelein to Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

Planning is underway for the second section from Lakewood north to near Singing Hills Forest Preserve near Volo.

The new preserve also protects an unusual habitat for little bluestem, located on a marl flat that occurs near Fish Lake. Little bluestem grass usually grows in dry prairies, but here it grows in a wetland. Marl is calcium carbonate, a squishy, sticky, off-white clay-like substance that is often found in wet areas.

The new land purchase meets many of the voter-approved Forest Preserve land acquisition criteria, such as protecting natural areas for wildlife habitat, preserving wetlands, prairies and forests, providing trails, greenways, river and lake access, protecting against flooding, and creating new sites.

Dam files lawsuit

Claims GOP state committee kept secret

A Fox Lake Republican is suing his own party to keep his hopes for a State Central Committee candidacy

Cook County Circuit Court Judge Nate R. Howse heard arguments in a lawsuit filed by Dr. William Dam on March 25. A hearing was scheduled for March 26. The reason the case is scheduled in such a rapid manner is the GOP statewide party election will be April 1.

Efforts to reach Republican state party officials for comment were not successful.

"It was a rigged election so that only one person could meet the requirements," said Richard K. Means, attorney for Dam. "There was a secret meeting of the state party leaders on Feb. 19 when they voted to make the deadline for the candidates for state central committee on March 11. They did not tell anyone of the deadline. It was done by the incumbents to protect the incumbents."

Dam, former Mayor of Fox Lake, announced his campaign in January to run for the Republican State Central Committee. The position representing the 8th Congressional District is presently held by Robert Neal of Wadsworth. Dam is a precinct committeeman, a position Neal sought but lost on March 19.

GOP Leader Lee A. Daniels was listed as defendant in the case, as was the Illinois Republican Party and Neal.

"The State Central Committee members have a very real and public role. If someone should die or resign during the nomination process, they would nominate the successor," Means said.

There are 20 Republican State Central Committee positions.

"The Constitution of the State of Illinois in 1970 guarantees to all citizens that every person shall find remedy in the laws for all injuries and wrongs which he receives to his person, privacy, property, or reputation. He shall obtain justice by law freely, completely and promptly," the lawsuit states.

Since 1990, candidates for the office of Republican State Central Committee had submitted declarations of candidacy after the March Primary Election. "By past rules, custom and practice, at least as far back as 1990, candidates for the Spring fires bring life to forest

As part of a comprehensive district-wide land management program, the Lake County Forest Preserve staff is conducting controlled burns to restore savannas, prairies and wetlands throughout Lake County this spring.

Weather permitting, controlled prescribed burns, which began in March, will continue through May. Prescribed burns are used to control invasive species, reduce thatch, recycle nutrients in the soil, and reduce the risk of wildfires. Last year's burn program helped safely bring the benefits of fire to nearly 1,000 acres in Forest Preserves throughout Lake County.

Controlled prescribed burns decrease invasive weedy plants and encourage native plants to reproduce. They mimic the natural wildfire that occurred before Lake County was settled. The fires remove dead leaves, stems and twigs from the ground, exposing soil and seeds to the sun's rays early in the growing season. Wildlife populations have adapted to survive the burns.

Most animals are safe underground or high up in trees; others move out to the way to avoid fires.

"Due to the improved habitat we have actually seen a marked increase in wildlife populations after controlled prescribed burns, which indicates the program is successful," said Jim Anderson, Natural Resource Manager for the Lake County Forest Preserves.

"We try to actively manage at least ten percent of the District's nearly 24,000 acres." Prescribed burning is the most cost efficient tool available to land managers.

Forest Preserve staff and volunteers complete intensive training program before conducting prescribed burns to ensure that proper safety measures are taken to protect people, facilities, plants and animals in the Preserves and surrounding properties.

Recently, Forest Preserve staff attended a training course, developed in conjunction with Chicago Wilderness, to enhance their knowledge of conducting these prescribed burns.

Forest Preserves under consideration for spring prescribed burns include new sites like Ethel's Woods and Singing Hill, and other high quality or habitat restoration areas like Middlefork Savanna, Wadsworth Savanna, Cuba Marsh, Elm Road Forest, Rollins Savanna, Prairie Wolf Slough, Spring Bluff and others. Check out the wildlife and habitat restoration section on the Forest Preserves website at www.LCFPD.org for daily burn announcements

Here you can find which Preserve is scheduled to receive a prescribed fire, and you can learn more about the Forest Preserves entire land management program.

Forest preserve website open

A newly improved and expanded website about the Lake County Forest Preserves is now open at www.LCFPD.org, with information about spring and summer activities.

Over a year in its creation, the redesigned website greatly expands previous forest preserve online offerings, and provides easy 24hour access. On it, you will find nearly everything you could want to know about your Lake County forest preserves.

An interactive Lake County map allows you to discover information about individual forest preserves. Maps, nature and history summaries, and activity and amenity listings are available for each location. Also included are details about each of the 23 forest preserve picnic shelters, available for rent for family and group gatherings.

Up-to-date news about the forest preserves includes information about new land purchases, restoration and improvement projects, things to do and other related topics. A variety of downloadable publications, permit applications and other useful documents are also available. Forest preserve neighbors, members of the media, job seekers and companies wanting to do business with the forest preserves each have special sections.

A searchable calendar helps you explore award-winning programs and events by location, topic, date or age group. Special facilities, such as the Lake County Discovery Museum, Greenbelt Cultural Center, Ryerson Woods Visitors Center, Independence Grove Visitors Center, Fox River Marina and the Lake County and Teich Postcard Archives are highlighted. Teachers and youth group leaders will find information about services especially for Forest Preserve golf courses, Brae Loch, Countryside, Fort Sheridan and Thunder Hawk, have course maps and a wealth of other information about reserving tee times, golf lessons and more.

Facilities for banquets, meetings and social events also are covered.

Forest district gets $3.5 million

A philanthropic organization helped current distribution. stretch efforts to acquire more open space, according to President Al Westerman of the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

A $3.5 million grant received from the Open Lands Trustee Fund means Lake County has that much more to spend from land acquisition funds provided by voters two years ago, Westerman stated.

Westerman said it was significant that Lake County received about 1/6th of monies available from the trust fund earmarked for

A total of 670 acres will be added to Forest Preserve District holdings. Approximately 170 acres known as the Ansinger parcel will be added in Antioch Township at a cost of $1.5 million. A portion of the piece is in crop land.

Ethel's Woods, 500 acres of wooded land astride the Antioch and Newport Township boundaries in northern Lake County will be purchased for $2 million.

Both parcels are considered high quality land by Forest Preserve standards.

office of Republican State Central Committee were given both actual and constructive notice of the filing date for declarations of candidacy and other rules governing the election," the lawsuit states.

It claims that in between Feb. 9-14, Daniels, 10th District Committeeman William E. Peterson and Neal "met to conspire and discuss how to frustrate Dam's candidacy and preserve Neal's incumbency," Dam states in the suit.

The suit claims that stating a vote in the March 19 primary was impossible, since the party required candidates file on March 11.

"The defendant party took no steps to provide notice of this change in the requirements for candidacy for the most important of the party's offices to its members in general. Although the dates of the General Primary Election and the county conventions were listed on the party's calendar of events, and on its Internet world wide web site, the advance declaration deadline was not."

The suit seeks to acknowledge of the Dam's declaration of candidacy and a rejection of the party's claim that the candidacy was untimely.

County's health gets report card

By JEFF ZACHARY Staff Reporter

In recognition of National Public Health Week April 1-7, the Lake County Health Department is releasing data on the state of health in the county.

The department has adopted the Surgeon General's 10 leading health indicators as a tool to assess the county's overall health.

The 10 leading indicators include physical activity; overweight and obesity; tobacco usage; substance abuse; responsible sexual behavior; mental health; injury and violence; environmental quality; immunization; and access to health care.

It is the hope of the health department to improve in all of these areas.

For example substance abuse in Lake County is at 13.6 percent of the population and by the year 2010 the goal is to reduce that to 6 percent.

Immunization is at 72 percent of children between 19-35 months and by the year 2010 the goal is to increase that to 80 percent.

"In the physical activity category we are already ahead of the national average," said Leslie Piotrowski, communications manag-

"Lake County is a healthy community to live in, but it can be even better if we can improve the childhood immunization rate, decrease substance abuse and obesity rates, increase access to healthcare for the uninsured and address other health concerns" said Dale Galassie, executive director of the health department.

According to Galassie, National Public Health Week is an opportunity for the public to learn more about the successes of public health, which over the past 50 years has achieved significant increases in life expectancy and reductions in the incidence of injury, disability and disease.

The Lake County Health Department provides more than 60 separately funded programs to address the public health needs of Lake County residents.

National County Week starts April 7

The Lake County Board resolved to take part in National County Government Week from April 7-13. The theme for the weeklong celebration is "Counties Secure America."

The terrorist attacks of September 11th spotlighted the work county officials do to respond to emergency situations. There are 3,066 counties in the United States, collectively responsible for the well being of more than 230 million residents.

Lake County joins other counties from around the country to celebrate National County Government Week. Events for the week of April 7-13th will include a homeland security summit, an intergovernmental-relations assembly, a poster contest for school children and tours of Lake County facilities for local schools.

A statement from the National County Government Week organizers read: "Counties have a long history of serving and providing for the American people. In this new and trying time, counties will continue to safeguard our way of life, remaining vigilant protectors of our citizens.

"County governments are the citizen's local government voice, providing solutions that bring communities together. It is in recognition of the leadership, innovation and valuable service provided by our nation's counties that Lake County celebrates National County Government Week."

Anyone is welcome to attend the events. Please call Lake County Communications for more details, (847) 377-2155.

Electors revise Hispanic district

he law of unintended consequences came into play in the primary election off the March primary election. Both political parties moved heaven and earth to create a Hispanic dominated district with a super Hispanic majority for the Lake County Board.

So what happened? Two Hispanic candidates split the Hispanic vote and a candidate of African –American heritage won the Democratic nomination. That doesn't mean that a Hispanic candidate won't be elected in November. But if that is the case, Republicans will have to mount a massive write-in campaign. That will be close to impossible so it looks like Mary Ross Cunningham, an African-American, will represent the newly created Waukegan district.

Another unintended political consequence could develop again in Waukegan in the November election. Democratic map makers carved out a Waukegan state representative district to swell their ranks in the General Assembly. Eddie Washington, a party activist and local radio personality won a narrow victory in a three-way race for the nomination that left a bitter taste in the mouths of a lot of voters. Bitter enough for Democrats to go for a Republican this fall? That's a long shot, but the unintended consequence would be the election of Susan Tenzi, a political newcomer who garnered a surprisingly number of Republican votes, 2,377, in a district that is supposed to be solidly Democratic.

Politics imitates life. There are winners. There are losers. And sometimes elections turn out in unintended ways.

Four seasons a pipe dream hat in the world is happening to our weather? March became more wintery as the month progressed. There were spring-like temperatures in January and February when the daffodils and tulips got mixed signals, and started the annual ground-breaking early. Has anyone spotted a robin? The Easter bunny is going to be wearing ear-muffs this year. Guaranteed.

The weather is so wacky the only harbinger of spring is the pricegouging oil companies racheting up gasoline prices in double digits. The college kids haven't even detoured home on their way to Daytona and Padre Island. How crazy is the weather? Dog 'N Suds observed opening day in a blizzard this year. Mounds of salt are scattered about Lakeland, unused by frustrated snowplowers who are wondering why they invested in new Westerns this season.

A bright spot is that we can thumb our nose at Al Gore's global warming notions. Hah! Not in northeastern Illinois anyway. Maybe we'll have to rethink this notion about "four seasons." Sounds like something the developers dreamed up to peddle new homes. The builders, by the way, are gobbling up the famed Lake County orchards so fast we couldn't even enjoy the spring blooms even if the weatherman was cooperating.

If it's like last year, spring is only a state of mind. Winter hung on until Memorial Day. And then it was summer. So don't break out the lawn furniture and the outdoor barbecue yet. Better to keep the snow shovels and ice scrapers handy for a few more weeks.

Informed public makes difference

ust when you think there's no end to highrollers digging into suburban and Lakeland pockets, the plug gets pulled on two jazzy projects that further would have eroded our easy-going, laid-back lifestyle that attracts newcomers and satisfies existing residents. The Illinois Gaming Board spiked plans for a marquee casino with Las Vegas connections in Rosemont. In a somewhat humorous twist, politicians denounced the deal on the basis it would provide Bowing to public pressure and a 84-19 vote against in an advisory referendum, Volo Energy Center LLC withdrew plans for construction of a combined cycle alternative energy plant. Thousands of citizens surrounding the potential environmental nightmare heaved a sigh of relief.

Public opposition to both schemes was monumental. Two important lessons were learned with these contestable propositions. One is that unpopular and questionable projects cannot be considered in the context of the host community alone. The other is that an aroused, informed public can move mountains. At least casinos and peaker plants.

VIEWPOINT

Must remember Sept. 11 horrors

onday, March 11, I was introduced to a smiling elderly gentleman in the parking lot of a Florida condo area. We shook hands at 7:30 a.m. in a peaceful setting with warm sunshine glistening off rich tropical growth. "Otto is on his way to church. He goes every morning," mentioned Dick Kraft, my weekend host. "Never miss," Otto called out cheerfully as he cruised away in a vintage Buick sedan.

Otto's son was a New York City fire department battalion chief who went into one of the World Trade Center buildings to rescue workers in the terrorist attack six months earlier. He never came out, explained Dick, an Army buddy. Our 50-year friendship is marked by get-togethers every few years. We talked about how the pain felt from his son's death must be draining the man's declining years.

The night before, Dick, his wife, Emily, my wife, Nancy, and I hurried through dinner so we would not miss TV coverage of the sixmonth anniversary of the cowardly attack that triggered America's War on Terrorism. Now retired and living in Vermont, the Krafts formerly lived in northern New Jersey. On clear days, they could see the New York skyline, punctuated by the twin World Trade towers. Dick's work life was centered in New York City. Every day he passed within blocks of the twin towers.

For just about every present and former resident of the New York City area, there is a direct or indirect connection with the horrors of Sept. 11. They have a special bond. They'll never forget that date. What about the rest of us?

Already there is grumbling about reminders of Sept. 11 being overdone. There is the expected carping from the left. Too much flag waving. Mushy displays of patriotism. Oh? Those who question the need for expanding America's military complain that we rightly deserve to be criticized by peoples of other countries and that the U.S. responds wrongly by fighting terrorism wherever it exists.

We beg to differ. Sept. 11 must be remembered just like older Americans have never forgotten Dec. 7. Fred Barnes, writing in the Weekly Standard, said "...the truth is that the war is just, moral and worth fighting—for years, if necessary." Most certainly.

My own reminder comes every Tuesday morning, just when I'm rinsing out my morning coffee cup, the precise moment when radio reported the first World Trade Center crash. A few minutes later, car radio announced the second crash and confirmation of a terrorist attack. Our nation was in a war.

As Barnes said, "...there's an appropriate way to remind Americans of the worthiness of their cause and the need for fortitude." That way is remembering Sept. 11. Why would any American alive that day want to forget?

Stealing wood

Tim Rechner writes to be wary of getting a full face cord when purchasing firewood. He said he was ripped off by a local dealer who stacked the wood like Lincoln Logs with a hole in the middle. A face cord, the customary measure, is 4x8. Tim said the sharpie is getting $75 per face cord so he is stealing about $30 per load.

Students learn, earn on election day

ounty Clerk Willard Helander is getting high marks for utilizing the services of teenage volunteers to help staff the polls as judges in the primary election.

An estimated 150 students were on the job, totally legal under a 3-year-old state law permitting high school juniors and seniors to be election judges. Students came from Antioch, Grayslake, Libertyville, North Chicago, Waukegan, Zion and Stevenson High Schools.

Students enjoyed the practical political science learning experience. The pay $105—was OK, too.

Primary losers

Scratch one candidate for Republican chairman of Lake County. Bob Neal was defeated for precinct committeemen. Party chairmen must be committeeman to be eligible for the party leadership position to be filled April 1. Another high profile precinct committeeman bit the dust in primary balloting. Jack Martin of Libertyville now will be Citizen Martin. Both his friends and enemies don't expect the defeat to silence him.

Smooth transition

If she is elected in November, Republican Lake County Board nominee Sue Gravenhorst can make a smooth transition from the University of Illinois Board of Trustees to a seat on the 10th floor of the County Building. Gravenhorst is rounding out 17 years as a U of I trustee. A Lake Bluff resident, Gravenhorst said she is looking forward to further public service: "There's work to be done," she remarked about potential county service. New County Board members will be sworn in, in December.

Potter's pitching

Jack Potter, long-time political activist, was quiet during the recent primary squirmishing until the 11th hour when he heaved a few grenades, including mailing a leaflet to a select audience. Potter's piece, targeted to damage independent Republicans on the Lake County Board, left readers scratching their heads. One wag joked, "Potter won't get a job as an editor." The frequent Waukegan mayoral candidate is a real estate broker.

Long wait for Long

North Chicago's harangue over appointment of a city attorney is nearing a year and some sort of record. Center of the controversy is the refusal of aldermen to act on Mayor Bette Thomas' choice, Atty. Bob Long. Thomas insists that progress is on hold while councilmen battle over Long, who formerly practiced law in Antioch. Oddly enough, Long and his Waukeganbased firm, Daniels, Long and Pinsel have represented the city through the endless bickering.

Smaller is better

Gurnee officials are standing tall for shorter commercial signs in an effort to improve appearances in commercial areas. Trustee Tom Chamberlain says new smaller signs that conform to the village's sign ordinance will still do the job of attracting business. Merchants with legally nonconforming big signs are reluctant to take Chamberlain's bait.

lease don't jump in here until Monday, gentle reader. That's when these sensational scoops may appear in newspapers:

Our candidates for governor, Jim Ryan and Rod Blagojevich, after a vicious primary campaign, have agreed to wage a classy contest free of mud-slinging and cheap shots. In fact, they have decided to attend County Fairs together as partners in the three-legged races.

Tonya Harding, having whipped Paula Jones, now wants to fight Mike Tyson, providing she can use the baseball bat that whacked Nancy Kerrigan.

The Chicago Cubs, tired of bickering with their Wrigleyville neighbors, have announced they are moving to the Philippines and will become known as the Manila Folders.

Monday will be April Fool's Day, an annual occasion on which we shouldn't believe anything we read in the newspapers, or our e-mail, for that matter.

News people are notorious pranksters. When I lived in a Wisconsin city, one day the local newspaper printed on its front page a photo of a big airplane, an Army bomber, that had made a safe, forced landing in the middle of a small park, big enough only for a softball field.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Wow! I got in my car and drove over to see it. Hey, there was no bomber in the park, but there were quite a few other motorists circling the field, also duped on an April Fool's Day by a doctored photograph.

How gullible we were. The only kind of aircraft that could have landed in that small space would have been a helicopter.

Fooling friends on April 1 is a time-honored and widespread custom. No one really knows how it all began. One theory is that a celebration of spring was popular in France in the 1700s. It was called All Fools' Day and the trick was to send a person on an impossible errand. The victim was called the April

The spoofery spread to other countries and eventually was brought to the United States.

A prank is "a malicious or mischievous act designed to see another person suffer, if only mildly."

Since I don't have a malicious bone in my body, I couldn't concoct an April Fool's prank if I tried. However, some of my friends are rascals, I discovered. Here are suggestions they passed along (don't try these at home, children):

"Get a big balloon that says, 'It's a Boy!" and tie it to your friends' front porch."

"Put a 'For Sale' sign on his car, or a realestate sign on his lawn."

"Put salt in the sugar bowl and Vaseline on doorknobs."

"In a crowded restaurant, paste an 'Out of Order' sign on the door of the men's room."

An all-time favorite was pulled off by my friend Tony while his wife Susan was luxuriously submerged in a hot bath. Tony knocked on the bathroom door: "Hey, Susan, I have a headache. Can I get some aspirin?"

"Okay," she said.

He came in, carrying two large boxes of Alka-Seltzer, 72 tablets in all, and poured them into the tub.

As Susan sat there aghast, with the effervescent Alka-Seltzer bubbling, fizzing and popping all around her, Tony grinned like the jester he is and announced, "I don't have a headache. April Fool!"

Aiding accountability

decided to investigate Core Knowledge on my own-unaided by anyone of any persuasion. For those who do not know, . Core Knowledge is a whole-school curriculum outline that provides a planned progression of specific topics to teach language arts, history, geography, math, science and fine arts. It is designed so that students build on knowledge from year to year in grades kindergarten-eight. The best part about CK is the accountability and clarity-schools should be accountable for teaching important content, and that content should be defined with clarity. I found that the CK curriculum outline was much more organized and specific than our district's scope and sequence (available on the district website). That makes accountability a lot easier.

I found a lot of interesting articles on the web. I learned that John Hopkins University has on-line research reports that they have done on Core Knowledge. The John Hopkins report did a 3-year evaluation, and concluded that successful implementation relied on instructional leadership from the principal, teachers and the district as a whole. In turn CK would consistently contribute to making instruction more interesting and contentrich for the students. It stated that CK lends itself to hands-on and activity-based instruction. This report determined that if CK were fully implemented, the results would produce more clarity of goals, less repetitiveness in the curriculum and more content-rich instruction for the students. It was a "vehicle for more professional discussion and sharing among teachers," as well. In summary, CK curriculum is "broad, sequential and well grounded in theory and research and can produce great results if supported by the professionals," the report indicated.

I am a certified teacher in Illinois. I think very highly of our teachers. They really do care about our kids. William Bennet, former U.S. Secretary of Education, is an advocate of Core Knowledge. He calls it the best content guide available. He has also said that our kids are getting "whipped" in international academic competitions. I don't know about you, but I'm tired of hearing how the world outperforms us every year in the math and sciences. Let's use the best content guide available. Let's pick a curriculum that emphasizes content over the process of learning. In other words, let's learn about George Washington and the importance of Valley Forge and the American Revolution, not just celebrate his birthday or recognize his face. Let's get back to the basics.

'Big box' impact

Bradford Real Estate Services Corp., in presenting its proposal for a second "big box" retail center on Rte. 173, anchored by Menards, identifies the challenge of stormwater management at the site. It is identified that the site drains almost entirely into Little Silver Lake.

It is not sufficient for "Best Management Practices" to decrease the impact on Little Silver Lake. There should be no impact on Little Silver Lake, one of the top 10 cleanest lakes in the state!

The village and county officials must carefully consider the impact of development along the Rte. 173 corridor lest irrevocable damage to this beautiful natural resource occurs.

I hope that the village board would determine first what it wants Antioch to be through market research and careful planning and agree with trustee (Barbara) Porch in that "the village should not react to people peddling their wares."

Qualification count

The voters of Lake and McHenry Counties overwhelmingly endorsed the candidacy of Associate Judge Michael Caldwell for full circuit judge over McHenry County States Attorney Gary Pack. Pack was heavily favored in the race and was much better financed. All Judge Caldwell had were some of the most impressive ratings that have ever come out of a poll of lawyers rating the candidates for judge.

Few things in our society are as important as selecting qualified people of integrity to be our judges. My hat is off to the voters for their informed vote.

Three-month antibiotic treatment reduces risk of future heart attack

An antibiotic prolonged life and reduced the rate of new heart attacks." risk of future heart attacks in people hospitalized for heart attack or unstable angina, according to a report in today's rapid access issue of Circulation: Journal of the American Heart Association.

The antibiotic clarithromycin significantly lowered risk of death or serious cardiovascular events compared to those given a placebo. Clarithromycin is typically prescribed for respiratory infections.

"Patients with acute heart attacks or severe angina seem to benefit from treatment with a macrolide antibiotic," says lead author Juha Sinisalo, M.D., of Helsinki University Central Hospital in Helsinki, Finland. "The most likely mechanism of action is clarithromycin's antibacterial effect."

Infections are one cause of inflammation, and inflammation plays an important role in the development of coronary heart disease. Increasing evidence from animal and human studies indicates that several infections such as Chlamydia pneumoniae are associated with coronary heart disease.

Although the apparent advantage of clarithromycin likely stems from its antibacterial power, the drug may do double duty in coronary heart disease patients. Clarithromycin also has an anti-inflammatory action that is independent of its effect on bacteria, he says.

"There are only two ways to prove the connection between infections and coronary artery disease: vaccinations and antibiotic therapy," says Sinisalo. "Vaccinations to prevent heart disease are not available. Therefore, we conducted this study to find out if suppressing infections would decrease for patients with a high risk of heart attack. Trials in patients with stable heart disease have yielded differing results.

In a previous randomized study, a macrolide antibiotic was used for one month to treat people with acute coronary problems. The antibiotic seemed to show some benefit when compared to a placebo, but that advantage disappeared within six months.

Sinisalo and his colleagues studied 148 patients, ages 18 to 80, who were admitted to nine hospitals in different parts of Finland between September 1998 and December 2000. These patients had either a serious heart attack or severe chest pain.

The team randomized 74 patients to receive the antibiotic and 74 to get a placebo. Each participant received one 500 milligram tablet of clarithromycin or an identical-looking placebo daily for 85 days. Neither the patients nor the researchers knew who was receiving the drug or the placebo.

Age, gender and cardiovascular risk factors were similar for both groups. There was also no significant difference between the two groups in the use of antibiotics during the study other than the one used in the trial.

During the three-month treatment, 11 of the antibiotic patients and 19 of the placebo patients died or suffered a nonfatal heart attack or unstable angina. Although these findings show a benefit to patients receiving clarithromycin, the difference between the two groups was not statistically significant.

Sinisalo says one reason for that result is that the number of patients in the trial was too small to show a significant benefit at only three months. The patients were followed for an average of 555 days after hospitalization, with follow-up times ranging from 138 to 924

At the end of the study, 16 of the clarithromycin patients and 27 of the placebo patients had died, or suffered a nonfatal heart attack, unstable angina or a stroke. That difference was statistically significant. "The action of clarithromycin seems to be longlasting," says Sinisalo.

Compared to the placebo group, people in the study who received clarithromycin had a 41 percent lower risk of myocardial infarction or of suffering another serious cardiovascular problem.

Although the results are encouraging, "this study must be interpreted with caution because of the small number of patients," he

Inches-A-Weigh celebrates one-year anniversary

Inches-A-Weigh, Libertyville's only nutrition and exercise facility for women only, celebrated its one-year anniversary last month. In 2001, clients lost a combined 2,203 inches and 1,511 pounds. Lifestyle Manager, Cris Espeland and Nutritional Consultant, Jaye Laughlin each lost over 50 pounds and 50 inches while assisting over 200 clients to firm and tone and teaching them to eat properly.

Inches-A-Weigh, offers an all-inclusive program for women only, that combines nutritional services, figure shaping equipment and cardiovascular exercise all under one roof. Most clients lose between 8 and 12 inches after only 4 weeks. Every program is tailored specifically for each female client depending on short term or long term needs. Inches-A-Weigh also offers exercise only packages for women looking to regain their flexibility or to target problem areas.

Inches-A-Weigh runs 57 supervised classes every week and is located at 886 South Milwaukee Avenue in "Cambridge Plaza," Libertyville. Complimentary guest passes are available by contacting Denise Nation, the facilities Center Director at 1-847-247-8383.

Celebrating 25 years for Camp Superkids

A camp for children with asthma

Does your child suffer from moderate to severe asthma? Would you like your child to have an opportunity to attend a summer camp designed specifically for children with asthma, staffed by trained counselors, nurses, respiratory therapists and physicians? The American Lung Association of Illinois is planning their 25th Annual Camp Superkids program this year. Camp dates are June 30-July 5, 2002. Our camp is held at YMCA-Camp Duncan, in Northern Illinois, near Fox Lake. Bussing services will be available for campers from Southern Illinois up to Springfield.

Traditional camping activities like hiking, swimming, basketball, soccer and canoeing are scheduled throughout the week. Campers will participate in special evening activities as well. A vital and integral part of camp is asthma education, which is facilitated by a respiratory therapist.

Camper requirements are as follows: age 8-12; diagnosed with moderate to severer asthma; be on daily asthma medications and reside in Illinois, outside of Cook county. A medical infirmary is set up a camp with a complete medical team and trained counselors to watch over the campers.

Applications are currently being accepted through May 15th. We will host 120 children this year. A minimal donation is requested but not required. No child is ever denied due to financial situations.

For an application or more information, call Carol at 217-356-5071 or Linda and Lori at 1-800-586-4872.

Too stressed to snooze?

Solutions for a more peaceful night's sleep

Most Americans do not get the recommended eight hours of sleep required for good health, safety and optimum performance. In fact, the National Sleep Foundation (NSF) recently reported that 63 percent of Americans are sleep deprived.

During stressful times — such as the loss of a loved one, a change in job status or a serious illness — the numbers of those who suffer from sleep deficiency can be even greater. Ironically, this is the time when a good night's sleep is even more important to facilitate recovery and healing:

The following suggestions may ensure a more peaceful and restorative night's sleep for the entire household.

Struggling for Much-Needed Rest

People who suffer from anxiety often have difficulty falling asleep, wake up frequently during the night, arise too early in the morning, or experience unrefreshing sleep. These symptoms of insomnia are fueled by stress, grief, worry and disrupted sleep schedules.

One solution to combating insomnia is to create a restful sleep environment in every bedroom in the house. This includes keeping the temperature cool, the light dim and the bed comfortable.

"Choosing a good mattress can make a difference in the quality of sleep you get at night and the way you feel during the day," said Dr. Gary Zammit from the Sleep Disorders Institute at St. Luke's - Roosevelt Medical Center in New York City. "Most people do not realize that their bed can be preventing them from sleeping well and, in some cases, keeping them awake."

Insomniacs might consider alternative sleep surfaces to improve their sleep. One alternative is the Sleep Number Bed by Select Comfort with adjustable firmness and individualized comfort levels. In studies conducted at Stanford University and Duke University, participants fell asleep faster and experienced better quality, more restorative sleep on the Sleep Number bed than on a traditional innerspring mattress. Stanford University researchers also found that 87 percent of those who slept on the Sleep Number bed experienced a greater percentage of REM sleep with fewer disturbances.

Insomnia can be a forerunner of depression and other health-related problems, so it is important to seek a doctor's advice if symptoms persist.

Recognizing That Your Body Needs Sleep

For many involved in a crisis, daytime sleepiness is a frequent problem. Even if a person is getting the recommended eight hours of sleep a night, stress and emotional fatigue can cause excessive sleepiness and frequent dozing off. This can be especially harmful for adults since daytime sleepiness can lead to health problems or dangerous situations when they drive.

The best solutions for overcoming daytime sleepiness are to stick to a normal sleep routine and get extra rest if your body needs it. When stressed, adults should pay careful attention to what their bodies are telling them, make good judgments about getting to bed earlier and take frequent naps.

Lack of concentration, nodding off during quiet activities or having trouble waking up in the morning are signs that a child is not getting enough sleep. Parents should remember that if the sleep schedule is disrupted even one night, a child may experience these symptoms.

To reduce the chance of having nightmares, adults should avoid eating directly before bedtime and reduce their intake of caffeine and alcohol, as each will increase brain activity that can disrupt sleep.

For more information about sleeping better during stressful times, visit www.sleepfoundation.org. For details about the Sleep Number bed, call (800) 535-BEDS.

This kid takes being snotty to a new level

Hi Dr. Singer,

I have seen you write about everything from kids having fun with flatulence to snot to belching. My son has a habit that I believe will top everything you have written about and I want to know what to do to stop it. He likes to pick his nose and put it on other kids. Needless to say, he isn't making friends fast and we need to stop this behavior. He is already 8 years old and he is old enough to know better. What can you suggest? S.P.

Hi S.P.,

You are right. That one is right at the top of the list for really bad habits. Never fear. There are always ways to stop any behavior. Obviously, it is better if you come in to talk directly about these things and if you are unsure about what you are doing, it would be necessary for you to come in to make sure it works correctly. First, I would ask you if there are any heavy consequences for when he does this? If this behavior isn't costing him anything, it will not stop. School and home have to have a good, appropriate set of rules and consequences that will make that behavior not profitable anymore. My guess is that he is getting more attention from the behavior than consequences. This is usually why any behavior sticks around.

Second, clearly this kid needs attention. Now, we don't want to give attention for the bad stuff, but maybe you can find something he is good at to get attention for that isn't gross. Something that will win him friends instead of lose them for him.

Third, I think this child needs some social skills training. It is possible that he does not know how to react in social situations and when he gets stressed out in a social situation, he reverts to much younger behavior. Social skills training can happen in an office like mine, but it doesn't have to.

You can even work with him yourself on role playing what to do and or/what to say in different social situations.

PARENT'S PLACE

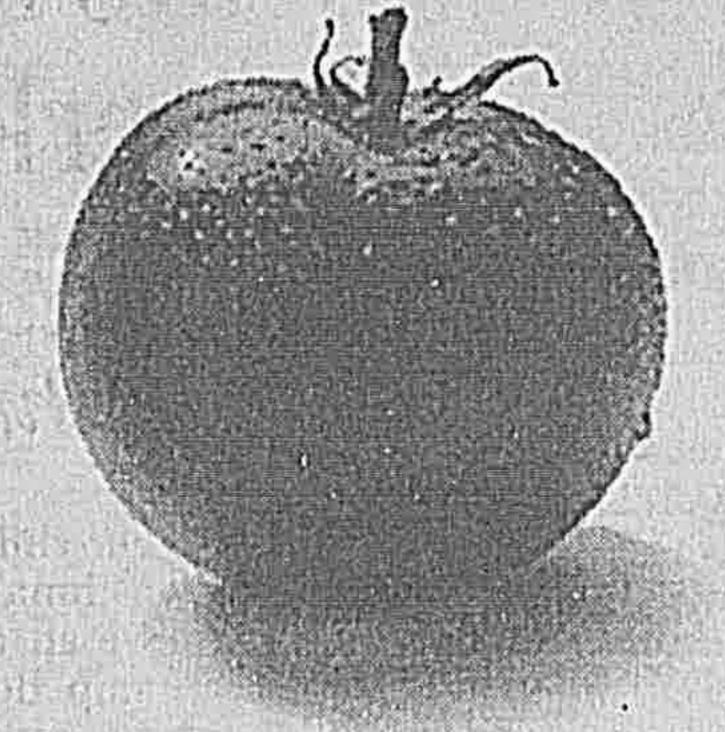

Dr. Sherri Singer

The combination of all three of those things should help a lot. Again, if you feel that you need to delve more into why this child is doing these things, and you need more than what my column can answer for you, a few sessions of counseling would not hurt. I am glad to work with you, but if you feel you need something sooner than July, which is when I am available for counseling again, I would encourage you to get a referral from your Pediatrician or you can talk to friends and ask if they know of anyone good for you to see.

Important note: Dr. Singer's maternity leave is between April 19th, 2002 and July 9th, 2002. She is currently scheduling appointments for the beginning of July. She will take calls to schedule July appointments until April 19th, 2002. Although she will not be seeing people during her maternity leave, you can still catch her column each week right here at Lakeland Newspapers.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior and processing skills. New to Dr. Singer's practice is her very powerful "Tic Mark System of Behavior Improvement in Kids." This system has promoted unbelievably fast behavior change both at home and school with very little work from parents and teachers. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with improving attention, distractibility, selfcontrol, focus and processing in her Total Success Program. A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. Kim Dalzell, PhD, RD, LD, is an oncology nutritionist with over a decade of experience in the cancer treatment field. Show the pros how much you know about hardwoods

Are you planning to hire experts to do your where they will be installed. next hardwood floor, cabinet or moulding project? If so, you'll want to be sure they understand hardwoods' special features and how to deal with them.

The most important thing to remember, according to the experts at the Hardwood Information Center, is that hardwoods are natural materials and they will expand and contract with extreme changes in your home's relative humidity. A good contractor will take this into account when installing new hardwood floors, cabinets, mouldings and other decorative millwork.

These tips from the Hardwood Information Center at www.hardwoodinfo.com can help you make sure the proper steps are taken before and during the project to ensure a top quality installation.

Pre-installation checklist.

- 1. Your house should be closed in, with all the outside windows and doors in place, before hardwood lumber, millwork or flooring are delivered.
- 2. The temperature and relative humidity should be maintained at occupancy levels for at least five days.
- 3. Excess moisture anywhere in the house should be allowed to evaporate. •
- 4. Sheet rock should be allowed to dry for at least two days, and plaster for a week or more, depending on weather conditions.
- 5. When it's delivered, the lumber, flooring or millwork should be divided into small lots and stored for at least a week in the rooms

6. Unprotected hardwood products should never be trucked, unloaded or stored in rain, snow or other wet conditions.

7. A contractor who receives a shipment of hardwood paneling, flooring, millwork or cabinetry should pull out several sample boards and use a hand-held moisture meter to measure their moisture content. The figure should closely match the one recommended for your part of the country. If it doesn't, the contractor should let the hardwood adjust to the site before installation.

Installation checklist

These important installation tips will help minimize expansion and contraction of hardwood paneling, flooring and millwork during seasonal changes in temperature and relative humidity.

Flooring

- 1. Moisture passes primarily through end grain, so when wood has been cut or mitered, the ends should be sealed with a transparent sealer before installation.
- 2. Flooring should never be installed over damp concrete or wet plywood. Even if the wood is dry, it will pick up moisture from the wet subfloor.
- 3. When laying a solid hardwood floor, a three-quarter inch gap should be left at the wall line for expansion. Baseboards will cover the
- 4. For wider plank flooring, the back surface should be sealed before installation and after acclimation.

Oboikowitch, Carthage boys put 'Red Scare' into opponents

By JOHN PHELPS & STEVE PETERSON Staff Reporters

No, it's not a life-threatening disease. It is, however, contagious on the campus of Carthage College in Kenosha. The 'Red Scare', that is. It's a euphemism for what the Carthage College Redmen men's basketball team did to many of its opponents this season. Twenty-eight, to be exact.

The Redmen, under the direction of sixth-year head coach Bosko Djurickovic, won the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin title for the second consecutive year. Then, the Redmen, after earning a trip to the Elite Eight of the Div.-3 NCAA tournament last year, followed up with a Final Four appearance last week. After falling to evennational champ Otterbein, Ohio, the Redmen waxed University of Rochester 72-51 in the third-place game.

"The loss (last night) still hurts but it's great to know we finished the season winning our last game," said senior forward Jason Wiertel.

The rise of the Redmen basketball program the last 3-4 years has been largely due to Wiertel, who became the school's all-time leading scorer this season. For his career, the 6-foot, 8-inch Buffalo Grove product netted 2,113 point, good for a career-scoring average of 19 points per game.

And just last week, Wiertel was named First Team All-American. He is also a fourtime selection of the All-CCIW Team.

points against Rochester. "This (making it to the Final Four) is one of the best things that's ever happened to me."

Wiertel isn't done, though. He's a pretty good pitcher for the Redmen baseball team. Besides Wiertel, there were so many other > key ingredients to Carthage's magical season, like Rolling Meadows' Rob Garnes and Schaumburg's Antoine McDaniel, both juniors. McDaniel averaged 17 points per game and was rewarded by being named second-team All-American and National Association of Basketball Coaches first team All-Midwest Region. Meanwhile, Garnes, with his 16 points per game clip, was named second-team All-Midwest Region.

Then there's former Libertyville standout Jim Oboikowitch, Wiertel's running mate and roommate the past four years.

Sanders, Oboikowitch's coach while he was at LHS, would have been proud.

One of Sanders' former stars has earned three letters in a career at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis. He played a major role in Carthage's 63-57 second round Division III tournament win.

With 1:02 left and his team holding off a late charge by Hope College, he canned two free throws for a 60-54 lead. He scored 6 points in Carthage's 25th win of the season. He also grabbed three key defensive rebounds down the stretch. For the season, Oboikowitch started 28 out of Carthage's 30 games. Last season, he was one of the first one's off the bench.

Oboikowitch, a 6-foot, 7-inch forwardcenter, came to the Kenosha school with another star from the Chicago area, Wiertel. Wiertel came up big for the Redmen, with 23 points in a 9-for-15 shooting effort. Both seniors and along with McDaniel's 13-point effort, helped Carthage prevail over Hope.

"It is because of these guys that I am here," Oboikowitch said, referring to head coach

"Also, my dad went here." Almost the entire roster, except for one freshman, is from Illinois. Djurickovic spent 20 years at North Park College, before signing on at Carthage six years ago.

Djurickovic and Wiertel.

"You want the ball in your hands of your seniors at the end of the game. They did not want their careers tonight," Djurickovic said.

The Redmen head man had praise for Oboikowitch and his season.

"Jim is a quality kid. He is a fabulous guy. He really understands his role on the team. And he is such a positive influence on and off the court. He is the type of guy that I would love to have my daughter marry, Djurickovic said.

Oboikowitch starts, and he averages 3.4 points, 57.4 percent shooting and 62.9 percent from the free-throw line. He also averages 4.4 rebounds per game. He has scored nine points twice, against North Park and Millkin.

"We don't want to take any steps backward here," Oboikowitch said of the post-season tournament run. "And that would mean a shot at the national title."

"I don't think about that No. 1 ranking stuff, but it is talked about with my family and I am sure that the players talk about it,"

Djurickovic said.

The Redmen came in as the No. 1 team in Division III, but Hope College, an upset winner in the first-round, all they could handle. A 14-point Carthage lead disappeared to a 52-52 tie with 7:21 left. Hope, in the end, ran out of gas, as Carhage thrilled the home crowd of 2,400 with an 11-6 run down the stretch.

But Carthage has been challenged throughout the season. It answered a onceonly loss to Elmhurst with a 14-game winning streak heading into sectionals. There was a 75-71 win over St. Xavier, too, but the Redmen dominated the CCIW the last three years, going 11-3 twice before this year's 13-1 mark. The Redmen won the league by four games, making it two out of three.

Djurickovic has seen consistent growth in the Kenosha school's program, as he has amassed an .800 winning percentage. The Redmen are 37-4 the last three seasons at the Physical Education Center. He has a 114-42 record there, and more than 300 wins overall in 16 years. But what about all those players from Illinois, coach?

"We are far enough away, about an hour and a half, that they can be away from home, but close enough that their friends and parents can see them play," Djurickovic said.

Carthage, ranked No. 1 most of the season in the Div.-3 polls, finished the year ranked second nationally. It also had a school-record 18-game winning streak before the loss to Otterbein.

Motorsports Show draws record number of entries utch Hafemann of Campbellsport, Wis. had his winged super-modified race car scored the Best of Show Championship award at the 25th Annual "Let's Go Racing" Motorsports Show.

Hafemann's entry topped an 82-car field, which was judged on appearance, completeness and showmanship. The turnout was the second largest in the 25-year history of the show, and the largest since 1983 when it was held at the now closed Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan. This year's show ran March 22-24 at The Original Outlet Mall, I-94 and Hwy. 50, in Kenosha, Wis., drawing record turnouts of spectators throughout the weekend.

"You're all winners," said Hafemann to show participants, upon receiving the award sponsored by NAPA Auto Parts of Zion. "I've met a lot of great people who have become friends over the years of our coming down here. This is really special."

This was Hafemann's fourth overall award, having taken the honor previously in 1997, 1998 and 1999.

"This year's show was by far one of the best we've ever had," said Mike Babicz of Babicz Auto Racing Services (BARS) in Gurnee, the show promoter. "I commend all of the participants and their race teams on an excellent job and representation of their sport. It was a fantastic weekend."

There were 32 different types of motorsports represented among the entries, continuing to make the show the largest and most diversified of its type in the country.

"It was great to see several second generation show participants along with several father-son(s) and father-daughter combined entries," Babicz said.

Area Top Ten Award recipients were 9year-old Jason Cox of Park City, quartermidget; Mark Finley of Ingleside, Rascal Outlaw; and Gary Mang of Lindenhurst, oldfashioned racing railroad handcar.

An area Honorable mention award went to Brian Kristan of Beach Park, sprint car.

Trish and John Kassner of Round Lake Beach received the Gordon Sill Award that is presented to someone from Illinois for outstanding support to the show.

The late Sill was the promoter of the closed Waukegan Speedway that was instrumental in the show's origination at the Belvidere Mall in Waukegan in 1977.

Babicz received an unexpected plaque from Janet Hafemann on behalf of the many show participants over the years recognizing Babicz for his 25 years of promoting the event.

Noreen Johnson served as show queen, assisting Babicz in making the awards presentations on Sunday afternoon. Dale Erdmann of Union Grove acted as awards ceremony emcee.

Area show sponsors included Wilmot Speedway and area associate sponsors included Brogan's Wards of Gurnee, Art Newvo Graphics of Lake Villa, Balmes Flower Shop of Gurnee and Franklin Racing Video Productions. Franklin videotaped the show and plans future airing on its cable program Midwest Motorsports Review.

Area show participants in addition to award recipients were: Dan Hopkins, Waukegan; Legend Cars-Dave Cerer, Gurnee; SCCA road racer-Mike Alexander, Winthrop Harbor; Jereme Schroeder, Lake Villa, minihot rod and quarter-midget; and Basic International Car (BIC) Rob Schiebel,

Bears hoops game at Mundelein High

What do the faculty and board of educators at Dist. 76 and some of the Chicago Bears players have in common?

Members from both will square off once again in the Third Annual Celebrity Basketball game April 6 at Mundelein High School.

Proceeds from the event go towards West Oak School in Mundelein.

Faculty from West Oak, Fairhaven and Daimond Lake Schools will play members of the Central Division champion Chicago Bears. Bears players scheduled to appear include Jerry Azumah, Marty Booker, James "Big Cat" Williams, Tony Parrish, Warrick Holdman and Jim Miller.

The format will be a little different this year, though.

"Instead of the faculty playing against the Bears for all four quarters, we'll have in advance and $8 at the door the night of the West Oak seventh- and-eighth-grade boys team playing the Bears for the first quarter. Then, the West Oak seventh- andeighth-grade girls team will play against them for the third quarters," said West Oak Assistant Principal Lea Keilwitz.

Meanwhile, the faculty members will have their shot at the Bears during the second and fourth quarters.

The evening won't be just basketball. At halftime, the nationally-known Jesse White Tumblers will perform a variety of acrobatic tumbling routines.

Disc jockey Mike Hill of Synergy Productions, along with West Oak cheerleaders, will also perform during timeouts.

Doors open at 5:30 p.m. with the basketball game getting underway roughly at 7. Then, at 8:30, Bears' players will hold an autograph and picture session.

"It's a great night of fun, with a chance to meet some of the Bears up close," said Keilwitz.

Tickets are $5 for students and adults the event. Children under the age of 3 are admitted free of charge.

Ticket forms are available at West Oak, Fairhaven and Diamond lake schools.

Annual FestaBulls April 4 at Berto Center

Everyone is cordially invited to the Chicago Bulls' private practice facility, the Berto Center on Thursday, April 4, for the team's annual fundraiser, FestaBulls. Bulls' players, coaches announcers mascots and front office personnel will host the evening, which includes an Italian style buffet dinner served courtside by Lou Malnati's.

Silent and live auctions of sports memorabilia will highlight the evening and will feature items from the current Bulls' players, other NBA teams, the Chicago White Sox, the Chicago Bears and memorabilia from the Bulls' Championship seasons.

The cost for the event is $160 for individual tickets and $1,500 for tables of 10. The event will take place from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Please call 312-455-4000 for reservations. The Berto Center is located at 550 Lake-Cook Rd. in Deerfield.

Proceeds from the auction will benefit CharitaBulls, the philanthropic arm of the Chicago Bulls' organization. Last year, FestaBulls raised more than $150,000 to support CharitaBulls' beneficiaries including Chicago Public Schools, Chicago Park District, City Year Chicago and the James Jordan Boys & Girls Club of Chicago.

News and notes

David Fisher, also known as the 'Rope Warrior', dazzled students at Mechanics Grove School in Mundelein last week. The PTA supported this event with its fund-raisers. Fisher provided workshops for the older students during the morning and two assemblies in the afternoon. Fisher's main emphasis was the importance of being active everyday while doing something fun. For Fisher, jumping rope is the activity he chooses to do to keep his heart and body healthy.

Fisher began jumping rope in college as a warm-up activity for volleyball. He fell in love with the sport and now it is his full-time profession. Fisher, who started his career with school assemblies and then moved up to being invited to the President's Inaugural Parade in 1997, promotes rope jumping and physical fitness.

He has made appearances on The Today Show and Good Morning America, along with many other shows. Fisher currently holds the world record for number of jumps while sitting (56).

Interested in learning more about Fisher, check out his web site at www.rope-warrior.com.

Pact would preserve 133.7 acres in Highland Park

Westerman

The Lake County Forest Preserve District will work with the City of Highland Park and the Park District of Highland Park to permanently preserve 133.7 acres of land and provide future greenway connections between several forest preserves and parks in that community, under terms of a unique intergovernmental agreement.

"We're excited to be able to assist in preserving new lands in such a densely populated area of Lake County," said Al Westerman, Lake County Forest Preserve President. "This new property and the planned trail greenways will help connect several other wonderful forest preserves we already have in and around Highland Park.

"The voters of southeastern Lake County were great supporters of our successful 1999 and 2000
Forest Preserve referenda to buy new lands. It's great to be able to help them preserve some of the last unprotected open space left in their land-

The 133.7-acre property, located at the southeast corner of Half Day Road (Route 22) and U.S. Route 41, contains a mix of woodlands, wetlands and a golf course. The Lake County Forest Preserves will receive three conservation easements from Highland Park and would pay up to $1.0 million toward the cost of preserving the land.

The Park District of Highland Park will restore and manage the preserved land.

A conservation easement is a legal agreement between a landowner and a qualified conservation organization, such as a forest preserve district, which permanently limits a property's uses in order to protect its conservation values. The conservation easements being granted to the Forest Preserve District are outlined in an intergovernmental agreement between the City of Highland Park, the Park District of Highland Park and the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

The agreement also would provide for future greenway connections between the newly preserved property and several other Forest Preserves in or near Highland Park, including Fort Sheridan, Prairie Wolf and Berkeley Prairie Forest Preserves.

The 133.7 acres permanently preserved through the agreement include three separate parcels: the 24.7-acre Lushing property, the 105-acre Highland Park Country Club and the 4-acre Highland Park Woods.

The agreement also requires that the City of Highland Park reach agreement with the Illinois Department of Transportation regarding use restrictions on an adjacent 15.4 acres, which could be added to the 133.7 acres managed by the park district.

The Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners approved the agreement at their meeting on February 15. The City of Highland Park Board of Trustees and the Park District of Highland Park Board of Commissioners previously approved the agreement and the three conservation easements.

Preserving the 133.7 acres in Highland Park meets many of the Forest Preserves land acquisition criteria, such as protecting natural areas for wildlife habitat, preserving wetlands, prairies and forests, providing trails, greenways, river and lake access, protecting against flooding, and creating new sites.

CLC NOTES

Lake County Magician to cast spell April 6

Bill Blagg III, a 22-year-old Zion magician/illusionist, will present an evening of magic and illusion at 7 p.m. April 6 in the Mainstage Theatre of the Performing Arts Building at the College of Lake County. Tickets are $10 for adults and $8 for children under 12.

Blagg stepped into the world of magic at the age of 5, experimenting with a variety of beginner magic sets. At age 8, he saw his first professional magic show in Chicago, influencing his decision to make magic his professional career. During his senior year in high school,*Blagg made history as the youngest contestant to place first in the adult stage competition at the Abbott Magic Get-Together in Colon, Mich. This honor placed him in the ranks of previous performers, including Lance Burton and David Copperfield.

Blagg's full-evening illusion show titled "Beyond Imagination" toured last year with much critical praise and recognition from audiences of all ages. This year's show "No Limits" features new illusions, an expanded lighting system and other magical surprises. His CLC show titled "The IIIrd Dimension" is intended for the whole family.

When Blagg is not performing, he is busy attending Carthage College in Kenosha as a full-time student majoring in performing arts/communications. He plans to continue his studies and earn a degree, which he considers important to his successful career in magic.

The program is supported in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency. Call 847-543-2300 for tickets.

Change in film schedule

Dates for two films in the "Film and Society Film Series" have been changed because of a delay in the release of one of the featured films.

"The Deep End," originally scheduled for April 12, will be shown on April 27. Co-writers/directors Scott McGehee and David Siegel pack a great deal of suspense in this updated screen version of a melodramatic 1940s crime novel. Tilda Swinton delivers a riveting Oscarcaliber performance as a distraught mother determined to save her teenaged son. This film was the winner of the Cinematography Award and nominee for the Grand Jury Prize at the 2001 Sundance Festival.

"Hedwig and the Angry Inch," which was scheduled for April 27, will be shown on April 12. This film was the winner of the Audience Award and Directors Award and nominated for the Grand Jury Prize at the 2001 Sundance Festival. Based on the Off-Broadway hard rock musical hit, this film is an imaginative combination of hard rock, sexual politics, cartoons, hard hearted moms and drag queen makeup.

Both films will be shown at 7 p.m. in Room D100 at the Grayslake Campus. Admision is free and open to the public. Films contain adult content and are not suitable for children. For more information, contact instructor Bob Coscarelli at 847-543-2623.

Former National Security adviser to speak at CLC

Leon Fuerth, a national security adviser to former Vice President Al Gore, will speak at the College of Lake County on April 1. He will address "Future Issues and American Security at 7 p.m. in the Mainstage Theatre of the Performing Arts Building.

Fuerth is currently the Shapiro Visiting Professor of International Relations at George Washington University. Prior to that, he enjoyed a 30-year career in government including positions at the State Department, the House and Senate, and the White House during the Clinton years, where he participated in the formation of national policy and in advising both the president and the vice president. Trimming Newspaper From Your Ad Budget Would Be Like Cutting Out Money To Close The Sale.

You've got their attention. You've piqued their interest. You've got them right smack up to the line. And then, just when they're ready to buy, you turn tail and walk away.

That's what happens when you don't run in newspaper. You're thumbing your nose at thousands of ready prospects and leaving the money behind. Because that's where most people make their decisions on where to shop and what to buy.

Studies show that 71% say newspaper is the place they turn to for shopping advice. They rate the information as four times more helpful than TV. Overwhelmingly more effective than direct mail. And the only source of information that gets them when they're actually in the mood to buy.

So, before you consider cutting newspaper for your budget, ask yourself: Are you also prepared to take a cut in sales?

Newspaper. It's The Best Way To Close A Sale.

INVITATION FOR BIDDER'S PROPOSALS The First Fire District of Antioch invites General Contractors to submit sealed bidder's proposals for the work described in detail in the bidding documents and contract and generally described as follows:

First Fire District of Antioch

Grass Lake Road Satellite Fire Station Sealed bids will be received by the First Fire District of Antioch until 2:00 p.m., April 16, 2002, at the First Fire District of Antioch, 835 Holbek, Antioch, Illinois, 60002. The Grass Lake Road Satellite Fire Station is a new two-bay fire station and contains approximately 9, 500 SF of floor area on a first floor and a mezzanine.

Upon bid closing, all bids will be opened and read aloud at the above mentioned place and time. A Pre-Bid Conference is scheduled for 2:00 p.m. on April 2, 2002, at the First Fire District of Antioch, 835 Holbek, Antioch, Illinois. Attendance at the Pre-Bid Conference is strongly recommended. Failure to attend may result in the disqualification of the bidder.

All bids must be submitted in DUPLICATE on forms furnished by the Architect. Bidding documents may be examined at the following location: Sente & Rubel Ltd., Architects 1955 Raymond Drive Suite #105, Northbrook, Illinois 60062

First Fire Dist. of Antioch, 835 Holbek, Antioch, IL 60002 Bidding documents consisting of, two (2) complete sets of drawings, and two (2) project manuals, may be obtained at Sente & Rubel or the First Fire District of Antioch by submitting a refundable deposit of $150.00. Deposits must be made in the form of cash or check made payable to Sente & Rubel Ltd., for documents picked up at that location, or to First Fire District of Antioch if picked up from this location. Contracts are required to call Sente & Rubel Ltd. at (847) 272-9500 or First Fire District of Antioch at (847) 395-5511 to reserve a set of bidding documents prior to picking them up. Deposits will be refundable only upon submittal of bid proposal and return of the bidding documents in good condition within ten (10) days after the bid opening date. All bidding documents must be returned to the Architect's office. Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond, certified check, cashier's check, or bank draft in an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the bid, made payable to the First Fire District of Antioch, as guarantee that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will execute a contract and furnish bonds as set forth in the project documents. In case · the bidder fails to file such contract and bonds, the amount of the check of Bid Bond shall be forfeited to the Owner as liquidated damages. The contract will be subject to the provisions of the Illinois Prevailing Wage Act, Illinois Compiled Statutes Chapter 820, Sections 130/1 through 130/12, providing for payment of prevailing rate of wages.

Within ten (10) days of receipt of Notice of Award of Contract, the successful bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond, Labor and Material Payment Bond, and certificates of insurance. The Performance Bond and Labor and Material Payment Bond shall be for 110% of the full amount of the contract.

The First Fire District of Antioch reserves the right to reject any and all bids, to waive any informalities in bidding, and to accept any proposal which the First Fire District of Antioch deems most favorable to the interest of the First Fire District of Antioch.

Animals If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.

*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.

*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare. *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions. *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.

*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare. *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet.
